Friday Deadline for Keeping Debt Within Legal Boundaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like Senate action and presidential the bill-laden husband waiting signature. for the finance company to give him a loan, the Treasury waits five business after spending this week for the Senate to say nine days on the censure of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., debt higher. The Senate faces a midnight Friday deadline for action if it is to keep the debt from suddenly being far higher than allowed by law. Favorable action within time to spare is expected, however.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said he would be forced to put an "Out of Business" sign on the Treasury door if the bill isn't approved.

$336 Billion Ceiling
The temporary debt ceiling now is $336 billion. The permanent ceiling of $285 billion will go back into effect at 12:01 a.m. Saturday, which is the start of a new fiscal year, unless action comes.

The House earlier this month narrowly approved a hike in the permanent ceiling to $358 billion, with another $7 billion available after July 1, 1968.

The Senate Finance Committee is expected to approve the plan and send it on for final

The Senate, ready for legislative business after spending nine days on the censure of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., planned to meet two hours earlier than usual so it could work toward a 10-day Fourth of July recess to begin Thursday.

Leader Corps
Prime business in the House is action on a compromise authorization for the National Teachers Corps—the program which sends special teams of teachers to work with underprivileged pupils in slum areas.

The bill would authorize $135 million for the corps over the next three years—90 per cent of the program's financing. But local school officials, with state school agency approval, would recruit, select and enroll the corps members. The federal government now does this.

If the authorization is not granted by Friday, $3.8 million in funds appropriated for the current year will be lost.

Senate leaders plan quick action if the House approves the bill, worked out in committee last week.

Space Program
Both chambers plan action on space program authorizations. The Senate Space Committee cut the administration's $5.1 billion request by $249 million. The House Space Committee recommended a $107 million chop.

Conferees from both houses planned to meet today to work on legislation aimed at averting a nationwide rail strike. The Senate favors and the House opposes provisions for a possible government-imposed interim solution to the dispute between rail lines and six shop-craft unions.

Pope Creates 27 New Cardinals, Asks for International Jerusalem

By GERALD MILLER

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI created 27 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church today, deplored the plight of Palestine refugees, and appealed for the internationalization of Jerusalem.

The new princes of the church included four Americans. The Pope also called on all Vietnamese—North and South to "once again love each other as brothers" and to work to rebuild their country into a free and independent land.

Pope Paul spoke in a closed consistory he held with 35 members of the Sacred College of Cardinals to confirm the 27 prelates he nominated May 29 to join them.

The meeting lasted 23 minutes. In addition to the four Americans, the new cardinals include 12 Italians, three Frenchmen, the first Bolivian, the first Indonesian, and an Argentine, a Monagasque, a Dutchman, a German, a Swiss and a Pole.

The percentage of Italians in the college — for centuries a largely Italian body — is now reduced to one-third.

Concrete Window Seal Approved for Jail
SALEM, Ore. (AP) — The attorney general of Oregon has ruled that the jail in rural Baker County can seal its windows with concrete. Jail officials had been concerned over incidents of outsiders passing hack-saw blades to the inmates.

The new U. S. cardinals are Archbishop John P. Cody of Chicago, John J. Krol of Philadelphia and Patrick A. O'Boyle of Washington, D.C., and Msgr. Francis J. Brennan, a native of Shenandoah, Pa., who has been dean of the Roman Rota, the Church's highest appeals court in marriage matters and church punishments.

The consistory also gave the Church the widest international representation ever in the council of the Pope's highest advisers. The College of Cardinals now represents 43 countries, two more than before. Creation of the new princes of the Church lowered the average

Dr. Hill said death resulted from leukemia although there were complications. "Frankie died after battling pneumonia due to an organism resistant to all the antibiotics and sulfas tested against it," the physician said. "Actually he had been responding well again to the L-asparaginase therapy and making excellent progress in killing the leukemia cells."

Frankie was the third human patient to receive L-asparaginase treatment for leukemia. Two now have died. One was said to have achieved a partial remission.

Dr. Hill said treatment by L-asparaginase "still shows a great deal of promise."

Major Bills Still Await Assembly Vote

Friday Adjournment Goal, but Backlog Huge After 6 Months

MADISON (AP) — The 1967 legislature has reached its week of decision.

The Assembly, driving to wind up work by the end of this week, is caught in a crisis over traffic safety. The Kellett Bill to streamline state government is under siege again in the Senate.

Lawmakers have set midnight Friday as their goal for adjournment.

Despite nearly six months in session, most of the work is yet undone.

An expanded presidential primary, a new war on air pollution, and a new state agency to study urban problems remain at stake in the final week.

The rise of time and torment over traffic safety and the Kellett Bill could trap many lesser measures in the homeward rush.

Little Accomplished
Despite the return of one-party control of state government for the first time in a decade, the accomplishments of the Republican legislature in the first 24 weeks have been limited.

The only victories have been the obvious—repeal at long last of Wisconsin's 19th Century ban on colored oleo and approval of the $1.1 billion main budget, balanced without a new tax hike for the first time since 1953.

The Senate, burdened by endless debate, needed nine weeks just to pass four bills—Kellett, oleo, the budget and traffic safety.

Now the Senate is five fortnights behind its normal schedule and the logjam of legislation it does pass is piling up in the Assembly in the bloody battle over traffic safety.

The Assembly has resisted Gov. Warren P. Knowles' two key proposals in his omnibus bill—a statewide minimum drinking age to be set at 21 and required intoxication tests for troopers jumped a major enemy force and reported they killed 105.

Supported by armored personnel carriers and air strikes, the airborne battalion of about 500 men overpowered what was evidently an enemy company or more. The South Vietnamese said they captured 19 weapons, including seven mortars and machine guns, and suffered only "light casualties."

Only light and sporadic contact was reported by U. S. units conducting 21 major ground sweeps.

U. S. headquarters reported 153 American air missions over North Vietnam Sunday, almost all against supply routes. As they have for almost a month, American pilots avoided the Hanoi-Haiphong region. The official reason given was bad weather.

South Vietnamese paratroopers scored the biggest success of the day in the 1st Corps area just below the 17th Parallel dividing Vietnam. On a search-and-destroy operation the paratroopers arrested for drunken driving.

Knowles earlier called the proposals crucial to the bill, but said at a news conference Friday he would sign a safety measure without them. Even with that concession, the Assembly has yet to settle other disputes over vehicle inspection and retesting of drivers before license renewals.

The Assembly was slated to renew the safety fight today while the Senate will return Tuesday to tackle the Kellett Bill for the third time.

Although the bulky reorganization blueprint has been passed by both houses, the quarrel over a mid-1968 merger of conservation and water agencies remains to be resolved.

The Senate, which wants to give control of the new department to current conservation officials, is expected to send the dispute to a joint compromise committee to try to work out a solution this week.

Progress on Schedule At Recreation Village

September 1 Set as Completion Date for See-ling on First Half of Golf Course

SHERWOOD — Though hampered by wet weather, work on the 18-hole golf course, part of the Wisconsin Recreation Village complex, west of here, is progressing on schedule.

The developers, High Cliff Inc., hope to have the first nine holes seeded by September 1, according to Francis Schneider, corporation president.

Some 160 pine, spruce, cedar, ash and birch trees were transplanted recently from nearby plantations on the Schneider property. Giant tree planting machinery from Madison moved into the area and moved the trees, which are from 10-40 feet tall.

Ditching Half Done
About half of the ditching, in connection with the project is completed and greens are being shaped.

Several additional lakes, to those already on the property, which previously was a recreation farm, providing trout fishing, duck and small game hunting, have been dug. The lakes are spring fed. A test well is also being drilled.

The recreation facilities are part of a luxury multi-million dollar motel, supper club, and 200 homesite development covering 480 acres, designed by Max Anderson Association and Homer Fieldhouse, Madison.

3 Appleton Teens Attempt to Bilk Waupaca Station

WAUPACA — Three 17-year-old Appleton youths were taken into custody early Sunday morning after they left the Clark Service Station on W. Fulton Street without paying for the gas they had ordered.

According to the station attendant the youths drove into the station and after getting gas, drove off. At the time, the car they were driving did not have license plates. The attendant notified police and a short time later a city patrolman found the youths parked in a driveway two blocks from the service station. They were putting license plates on the car, police said.

Taken to the Waupaca County jail, the trio was held in juvenile detention until later in the morning when they were released to the parents of one of the youths. They will be referred to juvenile authorities in Outagamie County, police said.

Freedom District Considers Buying Gym Accessories

FREEDOM — The board of education, at its recent meeting, considered the purchase of a stage curtain, and bleachers for the elementary and junior high school, but the issue was shelved until the next meeting to allow time to gather cost estimates and other information.

The board was told that the student council will try to raise money for a scoreboard.

Contracts were signed for William L. Bennet, science teacher, Mrs. William Van Stralen, part-time Spanish teacher, and the board hired Ted Bohm as an extra janitor at the elementary school.

Three items were passed out to the board for study and reference. They were Title III, a Proposed Safety Program; a booklet called, "The Budgeting Cycle," and a leaflet on the proposed Freedom Athletic Council.

Supt. of Schools Henry Patch informed the board that he and several businessmen met June 1 to consider a tentative sanitary district for the village. The meeting was called at the suggestion of the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission.

The Warren Report: Did One Bullet Hit Kennedy, Connally?

EDITOR'S NOTE — The defendant is a book. So is the prosecutor. On trial is the Warren Commission Report, indicted by men whose own books find it guilty. Guilty of haste. Guilty of bias. Guilty of a cover-up. But neither critic nor commissioner is the jury. The public is. It, ultimately, will find where it thinks truth lies. But before considering its verdict, the public must ask for the facts. All the facts. Has it heard them? All of them?

By BERNARD GAVZER
and SID MOODY
AP NEWSFEATURES

And the staff agrees there were weaknesses. Some were of omission: the commission most certainly could have called to testify witnesses who had only given statements to law officials. Some weaknesses were of commission: the report could easily have been more explicit about autopsy conflict. Some were inevitable: no one will ever be able to say with absolute certainty which bullet produced the fragments that were found in Kennedy's car or just what struck a bystander in the cheek or why Oswald did it or even, perhaps, if he did it unaided.

Depth of Quiz

But to read the report, all of it, is to appreciate the depth of the investigation. Perhaps the commission should have had its own investigatory staff, regardless of the huge expense. But that is to suggest that the FBI and the Secret Service and other investigative agencies on which it relied were somehow not to be trusted.

Some critics suggest that they were not trustworthy: either subconsciously they sought to defend their professionalism by charitably treating evidence and witnesses or, far worse, they were involved in a superplot. If the latter were the case, it would mean, because of the intricacy and range of the investigation, a conspiracy of almost universal dimensions. As yet, there is no such evidence.

The report volumes themselves are an irritating thing. The first 15 are testimony, most of it taken by the commission staff. The remaining 11, which lamentably have no central index, are as tidily packed as a beatnik's duffle bag. There is little or no order. A search for a specific statement or affidavit can take hours. One of the intense coterie of assassination buffs, Sylvia Meagher, has made an index on her own. But it, too, is fallible.

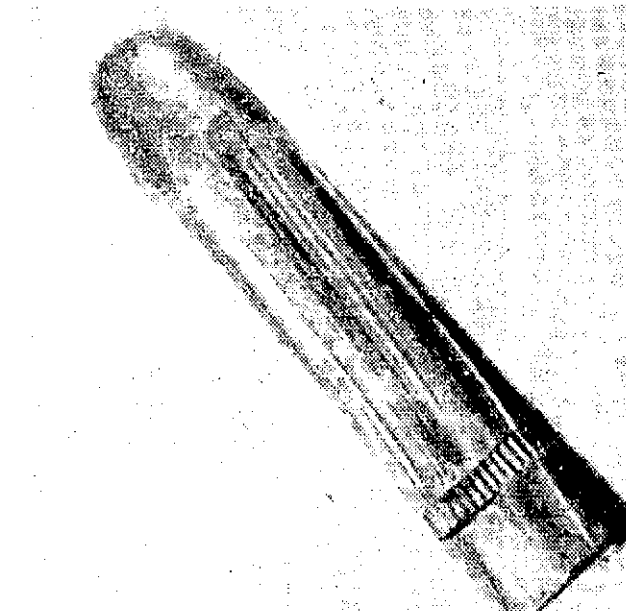

Yet the volumes, particularly the testimony, have a certain fascination. The range of characters is Tolstoyan. There is the President of the United States, the secretary of state. And a prostitute. There is a dashing, Russian-born oil man who knew both Oswald and Jacqueline Kennedy and whose amatory troubles with a Latin beauty are truly comic. And there is a laborer who told the august members of the commission in blunt terms of the locker room what he thought when he heard a rifle go off above his head in the depository building.

The critics are equally diverse. There is Harold Weisberg, a Maryland poultryman who was once National Barbecue King and claims his "Geese for Peace" campaign got the Peace Corps its first good publicity break. Weisberg, who knows the report as an evangelist knows his Bible, has published two books, "Whitewash" and "Whitewash II", is planning a third and thinks there were two Oswalds, one a look-alike stand-in.

"Sauvage, French journalist, argues with Gallic logic, no index and membership in the 'peraps' and 'it seems' school. He raises some pointed questions in areas where uncer-

Police Brandish Rifle shortly after it was found — near sniper's perch in book depository. Critics suggest the gun was a plant because police first said it was a Mauser and later said it was an Italian Mannlicher-Carcano, which, in fact, has a Mauser type action. Officer

This is the Bullet That was found at Parkland Hospital. Some critics said it came from Gov. Connally's stretcher. The commission says it came from Kennedy's stretcher. The bullet was almost undamaged. Tests showed it came from Oswald's rifle and no other. A few fragments found in Connally added to the weight of bullet 399 approximate the weight of such a bullet. Parkland doctors have been quoted out of context by some critics to say the fragments in Connally are too big to have come from Bullet 399. (AP Wirephoto) tainty is and may remain forever.

Epstein makes much of the doctor-FBI autopsy discrepancy. It is answerable. He makes a criticism of many of the commission's methods. This is arguable. Both ways. But he raises his questions from fact in the commission volumes. Sometimes not all the facts. And sometimes not facts at all.

Lane—Lane's name predominates. He has made a movie based on his book and given numerous lectures here and abroad. At the very end of his book he files a disclaimer explaining why he accepted material contrary to the commission's conclusions and rejected material that supports it. So, on almost his last page, Lane identifies himself: he is a prosecutor, using the defen-holding gun is J. C. Day, Dallas fingerprint expert. A palmprint of Oswald was later found on the barrel. Tiny fabric hairs which were similar to those of Oswald's shirt were found between the stock and the butt plate. (AP Wirephoto) sought to dispel rumor and keep America clean, not to determine fact.

But neither Edward Jay Epstein nor Earl Warren is the jury. The public is. And there is more to the case for the government than the public may have heard.

The public may know of the single bullet theory. It is a chain of circumstance, linked by assumptions. It is a chain that leads to Lee Harvey Oswald as the assassin. But it is vulnerable, as all chains. If one of its links breaks, it does not hold.

II—A Single Bullet, A Singular Theory

Bullet 399...The firing time of a mail-order rifle...An amateur motion picture...A governor's wounds ... A President's autopsy.

It was from these elements that the Warren Commission constructed what has become known as the "single bullet theory."

And it is these elements which critics of the Warren report use to topple the theory and discredit the report.

The theory was reached after the commission staff was confronted with two pieces of conflicting evidence:

That the first wound suffered by President Kennedy and Texas Gov. John B. Connally evidently occurred within a span of 1.6 seconds; 2—that the murder weapon could not be fired faster than once every 2.3 seconds.

What was the answer?

The commission decided that one bullet went through Kennedy's neck, traveled four feet forward and struck Connally, inflicting wounds on his chest, wrist and thigh. A second bullet struck Kennedy at the back of his head and killed him. A third bullet missed.

Any argument that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone assassin or he wasn't stems from this theory.

The theory is central to these commission conclusions:

1—That all the shots fired at the President and governor were fired from Oswald's sniper's perch on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository, overlooking Dealey Plaza in Dallas—and from no other place.

2—That all the shots were fired from a 6.5mm Mannlicher-Carcano rifle, owned by Oswald, and found on the sixth floor after the assassination—and no other weapon in the world.

3—That all the shots were fired by Lee Harvey Oswald—and no other person.

In arriving at the single bullet theory, the commission itself laid the groundwork for its possible challenge by saying in the report:

"Although it is not necessary to any essential findings of the commission to determine just which shot hit Gov. Connally, there is very persuasive evidence from the experts to indicate that the same bullet which pierced the President's throat also caused Gov. Connally's wounds."

But if that didn't happen, the theory teeters—and so does the case against Oswald as the lone assassin.

The critics have assaulted the theory. But not with new evidence. They have used conjecture instead of fact. And when they dig into the report for evidence, they do not describe all that is on the shovel.

For example:

Mark Lane contends the "alleged" assassin rifle—the Mannlicher-Carcano — was planted. His evidence: the depository rifle was first described in press reports as a "Mauser." Lane also relies heavily on an affidavit by Constable Seymour Weitzman as describing the weapon as "a 7.65 Mauser bolt action." Lane emphasizes that Weitzman was a rifle expert. What is the fact? Weitzman testified he never handled the weapon and has since said that the word "Mauser" describes the bolt action. The Italian Mannlicher-Carcano, as mentioned, was manufactured with the patented German Mauser bolt action, and the Italians rechambered it for 6.5mm ammunition.

Says Report Suspect

Epstein claims the autopsy report on Kennedy is suspect. His evidence: a dot on an autopsy sketch indicates a bullet entry below Kennedy's shoulder, which means the bullet couldn't have emerged to hit Connally. What is the fact? The dot is off the mark. But the descriptive detail with it locates the neck wound precisely. So does the testimony of the pathologists as well as the autopsy report itself.

Weisberg claims the film taken by a spectator, Abraham Zapruder, shows Kennedy was wounded much earlier than the commission says, and this means there had to be another gunman in another firing position. His evidence is obtained by pruning Zapruder's testimony. Just how and to what effect will be discussed further.

The impact of their attacks has had telling effect, but the most jarring challenge to the single bullet theory came from one of the victims, Gov. Connally.

"I am convinced beyond any doubt that I was not struck by the first bullet," says the governor. He recites his recollection of the sequence in which he heard a shot and then felt himself shot—and since a bullet travels faster than sound how could he have heard the same shot that hit him?

But the commission found it could not be so certain. There was other evidence which indicated the governor could be in error about his reconstruction. The governor was clear about being hit in the chest. But he did not know until the next day that a bullet had gone through his wrist and hit his thigh. He thought there were 10 to 12 seconds between the first and last shots. But analysis of the Zapruder film indicated that there were 5.6 seconds during which one shot wounded Kennedy and another killed him.

There also was uncertainty due to the testimony of Connally and his wife Nellie. The governor testified that Kennedy was hit and had his hands at his throat. And then, he said, he was hit by a second shot. His wife agrees. "I immediately when I was hit, I said, 'Oh, no, no, no.' And then I said, 'My God, they are going to kill us all,'" Connally testified.

Testimony Differs

But Mrs. Connally testified: "As the first shot was hit, and I turned to look at the same time, I recall John saying, 'Oh, no, no, no.' Then there was a second shot, and it hit John, and as he recoiled to the right, just crumpled like a wounded animal to the right, he said, 'My God, they are going to kill us all.'"

If the governor is correct that he said "Oh, no, no, no," as soon as he was hit, and if Mrs. Connally is correct that he said this before she heard a second shot, then the commission's assumption stands on reasonable ground.

The governor viewing frames of the Zapruder film, picked Frames 231 to 234 as those representing the moment he believes he was hit. Scrutiny of these frames shows the governor's hands are rather high, certainly above the point at which the bullet exited from the governor's chest—a point two inches below the center of the right nipple. Since the bullet caused a chest wound from back to front at a 25 degree downward angle, it would have been necessary for the bullet to then make an upward turn to go through the top of his right wrist and then come down to a point five inches above his left knee.

Had there not been the Zapruder film, it is possible that investigators might have reached a simple equation: three wounds—three bullets.

Three used shells near the sixth-floor window of the depository fortified the conclusion there were three shots. And of the 205 persons who gave statements regarding the number of shots, 119 said they heard three, seven heard two or more and 39 heard "some." Eleven said they heard four and a handful said there were even more.

In analyzing the Zapruder film, the commission found that at the most there was a 1.6 second time span during which Kennedy and the governor were first wounded.

This was determined by measuring the operating speed of the camera. Zapruder's exposed 18.3 frames per second. Other evidence—the shells and rifle in the depository, the rifle seen protruding through the window, the nature of wounds, and so on—established that the sixth floor of the depository was one fixed point. The almost foot-by-foot movements of the presidential limousine—as demonstrated by the Zapruder movie and other photographs—provided other fixed points.

But the Zapruder film had one drawback: the progress of the limousine was obstructed for approximately seven-tenths of a second by a road sign. So there is no pictorial evidence in the film showing exactly when Kennedy was first hit. The fatal shot is clearly seen later in the film.

Investigators positioning themselves in the sniper's window perch could determine when Kennedy or Connally were probably in position to be targets. Since the foliage of an oak tree blocked the line of fire until the limousine had gone past the depository on its way to Stemmons Freeway, it was determined that the president could not have been struck at the base of the neck until Frame 210 of the Zapruder film. At this point, the limousine is already moving behind the road sign, traveling at a rate of 11.2 miles an hour.

Weisberg says the computations are meaningless. He says there is evidence the president was hit earlier. He cites Zapruder's testimony in Vol. VII, Page 571. Zapruder was being questioned by Lieheler and was describing details regarding different frames. In reference to the movement of the limousine, Zapruder says "It reached about—I imagine it was around here—I heard the first shot and I saw the President lean over and grab himself."

"Lawyers know very well that such words as 'here' in testimony relating to a location reflect nothing on the printed page. When they want the testimony clear, they ask the witness to identify the spot meant by 'here.' Zapruder was not asked to explain where 'here' was," Weisberg says. And then he says:

Saw Shot Hit

"But the startling meaning of Zapruder's testimony is this: He saw the first shot hit the president! He described the president's reaction to it. Had the president been obscured by the sign, Zapruder could have seen none of this. Therefore, the president was hit prior to Frame 210, prior to Frame 205, the last one that shows the top of his head..."

Turn to page 574 of the same volume and there is Zapruder being specific. He is shown Frame 225, which is the first one in which the president can be seen as the limousine emerges from behind the sign. The president appears to have his hands moving toward his throat, and Zapruder, looking at this frame, says:

"Yes it looks like he was hit—it seems—there—somewhere behind the sign. You see, he is still sitting upright."

Edward Jay Epstein tends to confuse the commission's interpretation of the Zapruder film by saying that because foliage of an oak tree blocked the view...the commission concluded that the earliest point the president could have been first hit was film Frame 207." No. If that happened, the president would have had a head wound then. Since his neck was blocked from a line of fire until Frame 210.

The commission did say that 207 was the first point at which Connally could have been hit, consistent with his wounds.

But when then was the governor hit? On the basis of computations and the visible movements of the governor, it was determined that at the very latest, he could not have been hit after Frame 240. That would mean that if the president was hit at Frame 210 and the governor at Frame 240, it would have occurred within a span of 1.6 seconds.

This time element is important to the commission—and the critics.

Firing tests of the Mannlicher-Carcano showed that three master riflemen couldn't fire it and work the bolt and get off another round in less than 2.3 seconds.

If the time span between the Kennedy and Connally wounds, is reduced too radically, the critics' argument might falter because the shorter time would support the plausibility of one bullet hitting both men. But the critics tend to support Connally's contention that he most likely was hit during Frames 231 to 234.

Arren Specter, now district attorney of Philadelphia, was the commission counsel generally described as chief architect of the single bullet theory. He and Wesley Liebeler both say that the Zapruder film shows that on Frame 230 the governor's right arm can be seen above the side of the car and that he was probably in his delayed reaction to his wounds at that point. On that premise, there was little more than a second between the time the president and governor were hit. It can be reduced further when it is considered that the president may not have been hit until just before Frame 225.

There is agreement among critics and commission about one thing the Zapruder film does show: the shot that killed the president. The impact of this hit is clear in Frame 313. The running time from Frame 210 to Frame 313 is 5.6 seconds.

The agreement ends there, because of the limited firing capacity of the Mannlicher-Carcano, the critics say (1) the president and governor could not have been hit within 1.6 seconds by two rounds fired from that rifle, and (2) three bullets could not have been fired within 5.6 seconds.

Epstein, examining the firing tests by three experts, says they used stationary targets and that the time was measured from the sound of the first report to the sound of the third report and thus had unlimited time to aim the first shot.

Time Estimates

"This is a significant factor. For example, if it is assumed it took the assassin one second to react, aim and pull the trigger, then he had only 4.6 seconds (not 5.6 seconds) to fire," Epstein says.

Mark Lane makes the same contention and adds to it a detailed attack in which he says the tests themselves were invalid, the ammunition was unreliable, the weapon was of poor quality and Oswald was an inferior marksman.

Wesley Liebel says that "if you assume Lane is right on all of this, what does it change? The fact is that that rifle was owned by Oswald, he was in the depository, the empty shells were fired by that weapon, the recovered bullet was fired by that weapon. The best evidence that the rifle was capable of delivering the shots and that Oswald was capable of hitting the president and governor is that it did and he did."

Specter challenges the time interpretations by the critics, saying:

"The would-be critics of the commission report all make the same mistake in interpreting the possibility of fitting three shots in a 5.6 seconds time-span because they count the first shot.

"When you fire three times, the first shot is not taken into account in the timing sequence. Look at it this way: aim is taken and there is the first shot. Then 2.3 seconds passes while the bolt action is worked and the next shot is fired. Then another 2.3 seconds for the third shot. The three shots can be fired within 4.6 seconds range of time."

Lane, Epstein and Weisberg also introduce another element in challenging the capability of the Mannlicher-Carcano: a fourth shot. Patently, the rifle as tested, could not have delivered four shots in 5.6 seconds. But where is their evidence? The commission considered such a possibility, but found no credible evidence for more than three shots.

It might seem that the commission would find added support in the firing demonstration by a British Royal Marines sergeant appearing on a BBC television show Jan. 30, 1967. Lane and Specter were there as participants in a debate about the controversy and saw the sergeant, using a Mannlicher-Carcano of the same vintage as Oswald's, aim at a target and get three rounds off in 2.6 seconds.

By that measure, it could have been possible that separate rounds could have hit the president and governor in close order. But if that happened, more riddles are posed: if one bullet alone went through the president's neck, how did it vanish without striking anyone else or anything else? If the governor was hit separately, what sort of wounds would he have suffered, and could they then have been from Bullet 399?

Undamaged Bullet

This was the bullet, in an almost undamaged condition, which was found in Parkland Memorial Hospital, where both the president and governor were taken. The commission says it is the bullet which passed through the president's neck and struck the governor in the chest, wrist and thigh.

Mark Lane describes it in a chapter entitled "Magic Bullet." Epstein calls it "The Stretcher Bullet." "The so-called 'found' bullet," Weisberg says, "...could, for example, have been planted in the hospital."

Experts put the bullet under scientific tests which they said proved it was fired by the Mannlicher-Carcano rifle.

The 6.5mm copper-jacketed bullet weighed 158.6 grains. Its standard weight would be 150-171 grains. This would mean that Bullet 399 lost between 1.4 and 2.4 grains.

Lane and Epstein each cite three particular witnesses for their conclusion that Bullet 399 lost too little weight to have caused the wounds received by Connally. One is Col. Pierre Finck, one of the autopsy surgeons, who ruled out the bullet "for the reason that there are too many fragments described in that (Connally's) wrist." Another is Cmdr. James J. Humes, the chief autopsy pathologist, who testified "this missile is basically intact, its jacket appears to me to be intact, and I do not understand how it could possibly have left fragments in either of these locations (wrist and thigh)." A third is Dr. Robert Shaw, who operated on the governor's chest, and who testified there were three grains left in the governor's wrist.

These conflicts were cleared up in other testimony, but the commissioner was remiss in not resolving the conflicts when they arose.

The critics do not detail the specific testimony regarding these fragments.

What is it?
Dr. Charles F. Gregory, who treated the governor's wrist wound, testified X-rays disclosed "three metallic flakes" there, and he added: "I would estimate that they would be weighed in micrograms, that it is something less than the weight of a postage stamp." Not three grains, as Dr. Shaw said.

'Tenth of Grain'

Dr. George T. Shires, who treated the thigh wound, testified no bullet fragments were recovered from it but that a small one, discernible on X-ray, remained in the femur. He was asked its weight, and answered "maybe a tenth of a grain."

Critic Harold Weisberg says that "the report refers to no fragments elsewhere. Shires says there is still one in the chest." But examine Shires' testimony in Vol. VI, Page 111, and you discover that Shires had just said any knowledge he had about damage to the rib was "only hearsay from Dr. Shaw, that's all." Shires was next asked whether he knew whether there were any bullet fragments in the chest, and he replied: "No, again except from postoperative X-rays, there is a small fragment remaining, but the initial fragments I think Dr. Shaw saw before I arrived."

Shaw, who treated the governor's chest wounds, testified about this in no uncertain terms.

"We saw no evidence of any metallic material in the X-ray that we had of the chest, and we found none during the operation," Shaw said. He had also testified that an X-ray made seven days after the shooting disclosed nothing except evidence of healing.

Shaw was responsible for the statement there were three grains of metal in the wrist wound. But as he stated in his testimony, he did "not accurately examine" this wound. That was Gregory's job.

None of the critics mention, incidentally, that the discovery of Bullet 399 was not entirely unanticipated. For it occurred to Gregory during the operation that such a search should be made. He says in his testimony:

There was "some speculation on our part, on my part, which was voiced to someone that some search ought to be made in the governor's clothing or perhaps in the auto or some place, wherever he may have been, for the missile which produced this much damage and was not resident in him." Bullet 399 had already been found, unknown to Gregory, when he said this. It was discovered shortly after 1 p.m., when the president was pronounced dead, on a stretcher in the corridor near the ground floor emergency rooms.

At first, it was thought this bullet came from the president's stretcher. And that fit in with the speculation that a bullet had hit the president in the back and exited during external heart massage. But the autopsy was to show that this didn't happen.

The commission determined that the bullet came from Connally's stretcher.

Epstein Conclusion

Epstein goes back to Col. Finck, saying his testimony "cannot be dismissed merely because it collided with the hypothesis that Bullet 399 was found on Connally's stretcher. Since Finck's categorical statement that this bullet could not have caused Connally's wrist wound was never challenged, disputed, or corrected, it can only be concluded from the evidence that Bullet 399 did not come from Connally's stretcher."

Epstein should turn to Vol. V, page 90, where he will find the testimony of Dr. Alfred G. Olivier, an expert on bullet wounds.

This exchange took place: "Q: Do you have an opinion as to whether, in fact, Bullet 399 did cause the wound on the governor's wrist, assuming if you will that it was the missile found on the governor's stretcher at Parkland Hospital?" "Dr. Olivier: I believe it was. That is my feeling."

Mini-Musical Not Mini in Theme, Enjoyment Value, Reviewer Says

BY JAMES AUER

Post-Crescent Sunday Editor

First there was the mini-car, then the mini-skirt. Currently, to judge by the divorce statistics, thousands of persons are participating in mini-marriages. And now, in the experimental theater of the Lawrence University Music-Drama Center, Attic Theatre, Inc., is presenting a mini-musical — "The Fantasticks," opening attraction of the community producing group's 18th consecutive season.

Based on a venerable and almost forgotten play by French dramatist Edmund Rostand, and staged in a three-sided arena, "The Fantasticks" is a miniature in terms of cast (eight members), orchestra (piano and harp), production (a simple platform for the performers, plus a chest for the few necessary properties) and audience size (it's pretty well lost in proscenium-style theaters).

It's not, however, miniature either in theme (parental manipulation of youth's romantic dreams, and their inevitable erosion when exposed to reality) or entertainment value.

Since May, 1960, when it was first unveiled off-Broadway, "The Fantasticks" has become one of New York's longest-running and most profitable attractions.

Anti-Romantic Comedy

It should come as no great surprise, then, that this engaging and unpretentious little anti-romantic comedy, with its time-proven book and lyrics by Tom Jones and increasingly familiar music by Harvey Schmidt, horseback riding show have been arranged. There are more than 250 members in the Northern Wisconsin Chapter.

emerges in its Attic incarnation as an engaging and unpretentious evening of song-and-dance entertainment.

Director-actor Don E. Jones (who pops out of the chest in the course of the performance and scores a substantial hit as one of his own featured players) has taken few chances in staging this nostalgic exercise in youthful ardor and autumnal cynicism.

He has followed, as closely as affection and originality permit, the scheme of production outlined by the authors and pioneered by Lore Noto at the Sullivan Street Playhouse.

There is no setting, per se, most of the properties exist only in the imagination of the spectators. Leaves are pieces of colored paper sprinkled by a Mute; the moon is a great, artificial crescent, suspended on a hook; the sun is a brilliant disc, painted (symbols, anyone?) on the reverse side of the moon.

The rumpled show curtain is taken down and put up again by cast members. The background, mercifully, is black.

Costumes Almost Unnoticed

In keeping with the general atmosphere of spontaneity and improvisation, the costumes by Doris Vlossak are so unprepossessing as to be almost unnoticed, and the lighting is subtle and flexible, yet dramatically effective.

The story, as just about every potential playgoer must be aware by now, is a study in irony and contradiction — of love denied and love permitted, of illusions fostered and illusions shattered.

It is a scenario that demands more skill in the playing than a superficial analysis might indicate, and it has, in general, been well served by the cast. Jones has assembled.

Dale Deusing, an outstanding student of the show's music director, Mari Taniguchi, is in fine voice and displays improved acting ability as The Boy, for whom distance or a garden wall lend enchantment to all things out of sight or forbidden.

Cast as The Girl, the coltish and fresh-voiced Pamela Moehring manages to be affecting without seeming affected, and comes into her own in the climactic "Round and Round" number in Act II.

Suave, Soft-Spoken

Jack Swanson, as accomplished as ever, is compellingly suave and soft-spoken as The Narrator, a complex role whose many facets he has only begun to explore, and Mark VanderHeiden is efficient and self-effacing as The Mute, who doubles as any piece of scenery that may be required.

John Vlossak capers about with the requisite bravado and a fine sense of pantomime as The Boy's Father, while Barton Munson provides a likeable foil as his song-and-dance partner, The Girl's Father.

But it remains for a duo of clowns — Director Jones as the Actor and Tom Dick as his sidekick, The Man Who Dies — to provide the hilarious high points of the evening. A shadow of opening-night tension and concern may have clouded earlier scenes, but with the emergence of Jones from the prop chest in a cloud of dusty costumes and tattered clippings, all was well.

Strut and Preen

The Actor strutted and preened in the spotlight. The Man Who Dies did just that — and splendidly — from a self-induced (and pantomimed) bow-and-arrow wound. Theirs was a quality of verve and energy that set their performances apart, that touched their scenes with a kind of spontaneous madness that was evident nowhere else in the show.

One can only hope that this improvisatory quality will prove contagious, and make "The Fantasticks", as the run continues, not just an intelligent and scrupulous production of a great American standard, but an inspired interpretation.

Providing excellent musical backing for "The Fantasticks" are Eileen Neau, at the piano, and Mrs. Eugene A. Gassere, at the harp. The Music-Drama Center is dark tonight; the run will continue at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, through July 8.

Children Sample Old-Fashioned Fun

Decorated shoe boxes, stuffed with sandwiches and snacks; added a flavor of old-fashioned fun to lunchtime Wednesday at playgrounds throughout the city.

Children brought boxes fashioned with imagination, ribbon, crayons and crepe paper, and filled with food and special treats from their mothers' kitchens.

The result was as colorful, unique and original as a kaleidoscope.

Feminine Appeal

One box featured a miniature paper swing set and invited the recipient to 'meet the swingers.' One boy's contribution came complete with plastic trucks placed strategically along the top of the long box.

Pastel colors, pretty flowers and dainty decorations added a fanciful touch to the girls' creations, designed to appeal to a more feminine taste and sweeter tooth.

After the intriguing boxes had been distributed, admired and compared, children clad in sweatshirts and warm sweaters sat down at rows of picnic tables. They eagerly opened the attractive boxes, now concerned more with contents than appearance. For hungry children at noontime, happiness was a box filled with their favorite treats.

boxes filled with lunchtime snacks for the occasion. The event was sponsored by the Appleton Recreation Department.

A Noon Box Lunch social was held Wednesday at playgrounds throughout the city. Children decorated the boxes and then brought them to the parks for some old-fashioned fun. After They Had Admired the attractive box lunches, children became more interested in the contents. Above, Lynn Derfus sips a soft drink between bites as her sister, Susan, retains her interest in a banana.

Newlyweds Lady Bird, Mrs. Kosygin Meet for 'Seaside Summit'

By JOHN SHEPPARD
PARK, N.J. (AP) — The New Jersey governor's wife says the 38-year-old daughter of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin is a "warm, lovely girl—the kind any mother would be proud of."

"She's so charming," Mrs. Richard J. Hughes said Sunday after entertaining Kosygin's daughter, Ludmilla A. Gvishiani, for more than three hours.

Other guests at what Mrs. Hughes called "a seaside summit" were Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and her daughter Lynda Bird.

Go Sight-Seeing

A helicopter brought the ladies from Glassboro, to a windswept, 10-mile long peninsula. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Hughes pointed out sights in south Jersey during the 45-minute trip.

Mrs. Gvishiani saw vegetable and fruit farms, cranberry bogs, beaches filled with bathers, the Atlantic City boardwalk and the convention hall where Johnson was nominated by the Democrats in 1964.

The copier landed at a Coast Guard station one-half mile from the Hughes' seaside home. A three-car motorcade took the ladies to the 1½-story gray cedar shingle home over a traffic-free highway.

Security forces closed the 2,600-acre state park to incoming traffic during the visit. Newsmen and photographers were kept behind barriers at the foot of a 200-yard long driveway in front of the house.

Luncheon Menu

"We had our sandwiches early so the visitors could eat in peace," said Honey Hughes, 12, one of the six Hughes' children who met the visitors.

At a luncheon prepared by the governor's cook and three neighbor women, the ladies dined on chicken and wild rice, a tossed salad with oil and vinegar dressing and white wine. For dessert, they had fresh New Jersey strawberries with cream.

After lunch, Mrs. Hughes showed Mrs. Gvishiani her house.

Enjoys Tour

"She enjoyed the kitchen, especially the combination freezer-refrigerator," said Mrs. Hughes. "She also liked the washer and dryer, the dishwasher and the children's playroom."

Mrs. Hughes said she thought Mrs. Gvishiani was "really thrilled over seeing how an American family lived."

Before going for a walk on the beach, Mrs. Johnson gave Mrs. Gvishiani a small gold wrist watch, a mirror made in New England in 1790 and two autographed books, "Washington, Magnificent Capital" and "The Living White House."

She also received a book on art from Lynda Bird and a China bowl from Mrs. Hughes.

The hand was actually played badly by both sides, but the Americans made the last mistake and Forquet scrambled home with four clubs. We needn't examine the play in each painful detail; the chief point is that Italy was sure of a good net result because of better bidding judgment. Better judgment and better bidding systems throughout led to an overwhelming Italian victory.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 15-year-old boy who is trying awfully hard to get along with my parents. The trouble is, whenever we have a difference of opinion they take turns giving

Do you think it is back talk when a person wants to present his side of a disagreement? I don't yell or anything, I just make an attempt to speak, but they don't let me finish a sentence.

Early in June the Italian bridge team won its tenth world championship in 11 years, crushing North America by better bidding. This showed clearly in today's hand, in which Italy gained 17 international match points, the biggest swing of the final match.

During the entire match a pair of Italians held the North-South cards at one table, and a pair of Americans held those same North-South cards when the hand was replayed at the second table. If the two pairs were evenly matched, they would get the same results on the same cards.

When New York experts Alvin Roth and Bill Root were North-South, they doubled Giorgio Belladonna at two spades. The Roman ace made his contract with an overtrick, for a score of 870 points.

In the second room, Pietro Forquet and Benito Garozzo were far too clever to double two or even three spades. Forquet went on to four clubs, was doubled and managed to make his contract for a further Italian score of 710 points.

Against four clubs, Toronto star Eric Murray should have led a trump. He would get in with the ace of hearts in time to lead two more rounds of trumps.

Forquet won the actual diamond opening and led a heart. Murray should have taken the ace of hearts and led two rounds of trumps, but he ducked. Now there was no way to

Mrs. Van Asten Couple Exchanges Promises

KAUKAUNA — Miss Mary Ann Promer and Marvin Van Asten repeated wedding vows in a 1:30 p.m. Saturday wedding at Holy Cross Catholic Church. The Rev. Gerald Berken officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Promer, 504 N. Margaret St., are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Van Asten, 216 E. Ninth St.

The bride chose her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Promer Jr., as matron of honor. Miss Marlene Promer and Miss Donna Van Asten were bridesmaids.

Robert Promer Jr. performed duties of best man for his brother. Groomsmen were Thomas Tennesen and Michael Van Asten. Guests were escorted to their places by Merlen Van Asten and James Heitman.

The couple was honored at a reception at the Legion Club, Wrightstown.

Children Should Learn in Youth To be Independent, Responsible

Editor's Note: All parents want their children to succeed in school. This is the first in a series of articles that provide positive suggestions for home training that will improve a child's chances for classroom success.

BY LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
University of Southern California

It's much easier for you to tie shoelaces, put away toys and hang up clothes than to teach a child to do these things.

If the youngster is to make the progress he should, however, he must learn to do things for himself and to be responsible.

Children who have been over-protected and over-directed lack the training provided by small experiences.

For example, reading should be an active process. The child must TRY to understand as he reads. A child who has had too skills needed for reading are acquired mostly in pre-kindergarten years. They can be gained only through practice. In the classroom the child is only one of many with little chance to get individual help and practice. Mothers can provide this practice and at the same time help the child gain proper attitudes toward learning.

(Wednesday's article will discuss Learning to Talk Easily.)

little opportunity for independent activities in his preschool life lacks personal drive and often learns to read in a mechanical fashion without understanding what he reads.

Parents Are Key People

In many ways the home training a child receives affects his success in school. Parents are the key people in this training.

A good home start will send a child off to school ready to learn. It is in the home that he learns to accept himself as a worthwhile, successful teachable individual. This can happen only through his being taught and given individual attention before he enters the classroom.

Mothers are the logical teachers for skills like buttoning clothes and tying shoes. They can give the child the needed assurance that he can learn to do these things with practice.

They can help him feel successful. They can encourage him to keep trying from the first faltering steps until he can walk gracefully along a line on the floor. They can encourage him in developing the use of his hands in manipulating toys, feeding himself and working with crayons, paints and pencils.

But what they may not realize is that if he fails to gain enough skill in this area — if he holds the crayon and pencil awkwardly in his fist, or grips them too tightly, or bears down on the paper too heavily — he will have difficulty with his school work as he enters the first grade.

Last In Classroom?

Without this skill he will not learn to write easily and well and this in turn will affect his learning to read and spell. The skills and attitudes necessary for school success are so interdependent that it is difficult for a child to develop in school the skills and attitudes that he should have acquired before he reached school. Without them he falls farther and farther behind.

For example, major language

Luci Nugent, Infant Son Prepare to Leave Hospital

By FRANCES LEWINE

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Luci

Johnson Nugent and her infant son leave Seton Hospital for home today after the President's grandson, six days old, gets a final checkup from his doctors.

Departure from the hospital was scheduled for early afternoon. Photographers were told they could take pictures of the baby today.

during the President's first visit.

There were indications that the Nugents might release some of those pictures today.

Luci and her husband Patrick J. Nugent have everything ready for the homecoming of their new baby. They hired a Swiss-born nurse, Mary Gfeller of Washington, D.C. who took care of Luci when she was a baby.

Miss Gfeller, a naturalized citizen who has been in this country 30 years, arrived in Austin Friday.

She had kept in touch with the Johnsons since 19 years ago

when she took care of Luci, whose father then was a young congressman.

A White House spokesman said Miss Gfeller is expected to stay with the President's grandson for several weeks or a month.

It was a quiet Sunday at the hospital for Luci, with Pat her only visitor. This was quite a change of pace from the excitement of Saturday when the

Johnson spent 30 minutes in his daughter's hospital room.

Later, presidential press secretary George Christian said Luci, sitting in bed, had held the baby, who behaved perfectly and did not utter a cry.

Friends said the President did not pick up his grandson. The President had nothing to say publicly about his meeting with his grandson, but his press spokesman told reporters afterward that, as he was leaving, Johnson smiled and said, "Patrick Lyndon doesn't seem to be nearly as concerned with the problems of the world as I am."

40th Anniversary Marked by Pair

A $2,785 hospital-medical bill never worried the Holewinskis

Blue Cross • Blue Shield means peace of mind. Nobody realizes this more than Mr. and Mrs. Holewinski. When a recent serious illness struck Mr. Holewinski, hospital-medical bills totaled $2,785. All but $93 of this was paid in full by Blue Cross • Blue Shield.

As Mr. Holewinski expresses it, there's nothing else just like Blue Cross • Blue Shield protection:

"We have come to realize more than ever the safety and security in our Blue Cross • Blue Shield membership. Words would fail us if we were to try to describe how invaluable it is to us. Our recent hospital-medical bills, paid by Wisconsin Blue Cross and Surgical Care Blue Shield showing our savings, prove this and speak for themselves. We could not and would not want to be without Blue Cross • Blue Shield protection."

Mr. Holewinski, who works for the Kimberly-Clark Corporation, likes all the special advantages offered by Blue Cross • Blue Shield.

For example, the Blue Cross • Blue Shield card gets you into and out of the hospital without red tape. It means most benefits per dollar—benefits in line with today's rising hospital and medical costs. And Blue Shield means realistic help, too, with doctor bills that come with hospitalization.

No wonder the Holewinskis, like most other Wisconsin people, prefer Blue Cross • Blue Shield protection.

Should you have anything less?

Family of 5 Goes Through Sluice Gate at Neenah Dam

MENASHA — A 6-year-old Neenah girl probably owes her life to a Menasha man who plucked her from a floundering boat after it had been swept through the sluice gates of the Menasha dam Sunday afternoon with a family of five aboard.

Richard W. Meyer, 359 Oak St., an apprentice at the Geo. Banta Co., was the center of the praise and gratitude today for his daring rescue.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Virginia Sauer, 723 Main Street, Neenah, said she might have failed to reach shore herself if an unidentified young man had not pulled her from the racing water.

Mrs. Sauer, her husband, Kenneth, 39, Sheila and their two sons, Ricky, 14, and Steven, 12, were aboard the 17-foot wooden boat when its 75 horsepower motor quit upstream from the dam about 2 p.m. Sunday.

They later told police the boat was carried on the swift current under the Mill Street bridge, where the father and sons tried to hold onto the bridge to prevent the boat from going over the dam.

Mrs. Sauer said this morning the rest happened too fast for her to remember clearly what took place. She said she, too, reached for the bridge as the current dragged the boat from under her husband and sons, leaving them hanging from the bridge supports.

She was knocked over backwards and was tumbled through the open gates with the boat. Sheila remained in the boat as it went through the gates.

Meyer saw the boat drifting toward the dam while he was driving south across the Racine Street bridge, police learned later. He drove his car to the Geo. Banta Co. parking lot and rushed with a rope onto the Mill Street span, which is temporarily closed to traffic because of its dilapidated condition.

The Sauers were unable to secure the boat with the rope, however, and Sauer ran from the bridge to the shore below the bridge. He said he saw that the others were apparently safe, so he dived into the racing current and swam to the boat.

Meyer said he plucked Sheila from the craft and began trying to swim with her to shore. Once she slipped from his grasp, and he grabbed her life jacket to keep her from floating away. Together, they drifted to the railroad bridge about 1,000 feet downstream from the dam and clung to pilings until help arrived.

Pulled Her Out

Meanwhile, Mrs. Sauer said she floated near shore where someone grasped her hand and pulled her from the water, then ran off. She said she believed the unknown person was a young man wearing shorts and a yellow shirt.

The father and sons managed to scramble onto the bridge. Police took the family to the police station for first aid after they declined hospital treatment. "I just thank God," said Mrs. Sauer today. "It was God's hand that took care of us," she said.

The boat, which the Sauers had taken for a trial run from Eddie's Marina, Oshkosh, was tied to the railroad bridge and police and marina workmen fought to salvage it today.

The value of the craft was listed by the Marina at more than $1,000, including the motor, which was submerged upstream from the railroad bridge. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers closed the sluice gates to lower the water during the recovery operations.

Seven County Safety Chief Is Appointed

NEENAH — The State Industrial Commission today announced the appointment of Carl La Belle as supervisor of industrial safety in east central Wisconsin with headquarters in Neenah.

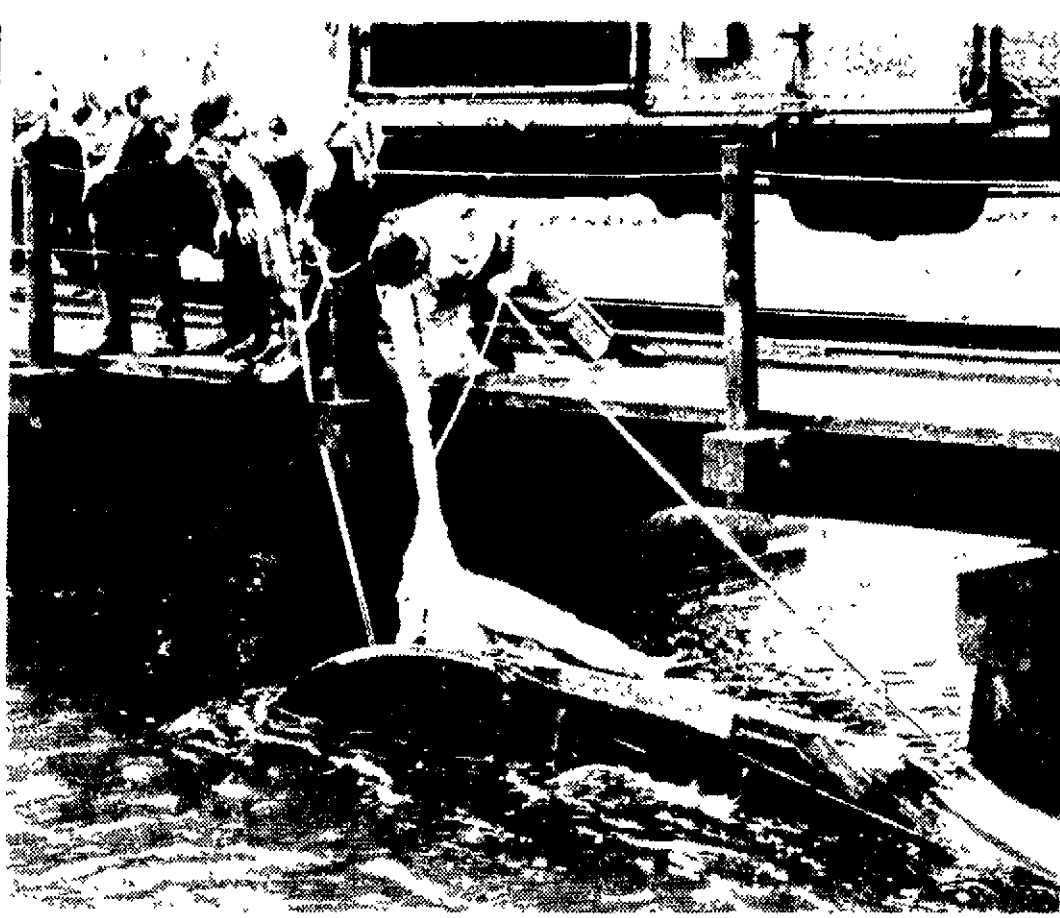

La Belle will supervise the work of six commission safety specialists in the region which includes the counties of Outagamie, Brown, Door, Kewaunee, Winnebago, Calumet, and Manitowish.

Industrial commission job safety activities include administration of Wisconsin's safe place codes covering public buildings; places of employment; mines, pits and quarries; elevators; petroleum storage; boilers and high pressure vessels; ski tows and places of amusement.

La Belle has been a commission safety specialist since 1965, working in the Wausau area. He and his wife, Dolores, and seven children will move to the Neenah area during the summer.

A Boat That Was Swept through the Menasha dam sluice gates Saturday afternoon with a Neenah family of five aboard was pinned against the pilings of a railroad trestle 1,000 feet downstream. Policemen and workmen from Eddie's Marina, Oshkosh, owner of the boat, struggled against swift current this morning to coax the badly damaged craft to shore. All five occupants of the 17-foot boat escaped unharmed, including a six-year-old girl who was rescued by a Menasha photographer.

Planner Finds Annexation Against Public Interest

MENASHA — The state planner has ruled the 303-acre Banta-Menasha common council, listed these reasons:

—The shape of the annexation is irregular, being contiguous for a distance of 675 feet of a total perimeter of 22,000 feet.

—The annexation will tend to create a bottleneck of unannexed township territory lying south of Airport Road, largely residential in character.

—The rendering of needed municipal services will be made more difficult to such isolated residential areas.

—The annexation will sever portions of the town lying to the east and west of the proposed annexation.

Syrian Officers Executed for Plotting Coup

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Two Syrian army officers were executed by a firing squad in Damascus at dawn today for plotting to overthrow Syria's Socialist government, Radio Damascus reported.

The broadcast said Maj. Salim Hatum and Maj. Badr Jumaa had been convicted of high treason Sunday by a special military court. It said they confessed they returned to the country at the height of the Arab-Israeli war to topple the regime on behalf of the U.S., British and West German intelligence services.

Hatum, a member of Syria's Moslem Druze minority, led an unsuccessful plot to overthrow the government last September. He escaped to neighboring Jordan.

This week Steiger used a new device, sending out questionnaires asking voter opinion on a wide range on international, national and domestic questions.

Italian Soldiers Killed by Mines in Annexed Area

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — Land mines killed four Italian soldiers Sunday in the most serious terrorist incident yet in the Alto Adige—South Tyrol—region which German-speaking extremists want Italy to return to Austria.

A soldier on patrol was injured fatally when he stepped on an antipersonnel mine a few yards inside the border with Austria. A unit searching the area for mines touched off another explosion a few hours later which killed three soldiers.

Italy annexed the Alto Adige from Austria after World War I. For more than a decade it has been troubled by bombings of monuments, rail lines and power lines.

NM Officials Will Air Sewage Odor Problems

NEENAH - MENASHA — City officials and residents of the west end of the Island planned to attend a meeting at 7:30 p.m. today of the sewerage commission, to air complaints about strong odors that have reported to arise from the sewage treatment plant in recent weeks.

5bi Gives Eulogy at His Own Funeral

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Miami rabbi delivered his own eulogy Sunday by means of an 18-month-old tape recording.

Rabbi Samuel Max Machtei, 67, who died Friday, said at the time the recording was made he wanted it played at his funeral.

A woman mourner wept on her husband's shoulder when the amplifier crackled near the white oak coffin.

"I carry no malice to the grave," the recording said. "To you who have walked with me along the way, I have not gone. You will recall the golden hours. 'Death is a misnomer. I'm just going out one door and into another: just like going into another room.'"

Summit Might Have Started Wheels Moving

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the surface the summit conference between President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin was a pleasant meeting which didn't settle anything. Neither man made any pretense it did.

But they talked almost 10 hours. So it wasn't chit-chat. A conversation which lasted that long between two men that big could take one of three directions.

—They could range the globe, decorating the landscape with platitudes about the problems of the world, and through easy give-and-take smooth the way for better U. S.-Soviet relations.

—They could reach agreement on one or more vital issues. But they said they didn't. —Through mutual interest, or through the insight each gained about the other side's view and knowledge of a problem, they could put the wheels in motion toward various settlements, none to be revealed until the time was ripe.

Since they both indicated they made progress on the first but didn't accomplish the second, that leaves the third as the big Johnson.

3 might explain why it took almost 10 hours to say what was on their minds.

Stuck to Positions

They were both negative on the two biggest issues of the day — the Mideast and the war in Vietnam — in the sense they stuck to the positions they had previously taken and said they had reached no agreement.

But that doesn't mean they didn't set the wheels in motion on both. And, of course, it didn't mean they did.

On television after the conference Kosygin took what has become the standard Soviet-Arab position on a Mideast settlement. Israel must pull its troops out of the Arab land it seized before there could be any question of settlement.

And the premier called the United States the aggressor in Vietnam — the typical, standard, expected Communist position — and said it must stop bombing the North and withdraw its troops from Vietnam before there can be peace there.

Pressure on Hanoi

This doesn't rule out the possibility that in secret Johnson and Kosygin arranged for the Soviets to put pressure on the North Vietnamese or at least give them special word from Johnson.

If this seems unlikely just remember it was only a few months ago that Johnson secretly exchanged notes with Ho Chi Minh, the North Vietnamese leader, urging direct peace talks. Johnson didn't reveal this North Vietnam did, and scorned the suggestion.

No matter what Kosygin and Johnson said to each other about the Mideast and Vietnam, the Soviet leader had to take in public the stand he did on television.

Obvious Purpose

He had come to this country for one obvious purpose: to win back the confidence of the Arabs who were miffed at Moscow for not helping them against Israel after the Soviet Union promised it would.

So he came here and made his big pitch before the United Nations, the same one he made Sunday night after seeing Johnson: Israel must pull back its troops.

The same on Vietnam. He would have given the Communist world reason for thinking the Red Chinese were right in deriding Moscow as a pal of the "imperialistic" West if he gave any indication that in his talks with Johnson he had retreated from the standard Soviet position: the United States must pull out of Vietnam.

And Johnson, publicly, was in the same fix for opposite reasons.

Couldn't Budge

After all the American sacrifices in Vietnam he couldn't afford to have budged an inch, once he met Kosygin, from the standard American position that the United States will not permit a Communist takeover of Vietnam.

Nor could Johnson afford to make a switch—or appear to have made any concession—from the American policy of not demanding Israel must pull its troops out of Arab lands before negotiations.

Since both men were in this kind of predicament, what they appeared to have done on Israel and Vietnam, which was nothing, could be no surprise. Johnson himself said they agreed on neither.

But that doesn't mean they didn't set some wheels in motion. The biggest question of the conference is: did they?

Judge Not Hard of Hearing; Wife Spots Llama in Backyard

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Criminal Court Judge Warren Edwards wasn't sure he heard his wife correctly Friday when she telephoned to report a llama in the backyard of their Orlando home.

His doubts dissolved a little later when she called again to report the beast's capture.

It turned out to be a pet llama which belonged to neighbors. The judge said he wasn't upset at having to return the animal to its owners. He already has a goat, cat and dog.

Pair Nabbed in Used-Car Lot At Seymour Pay $100 Fines

Two rural West DePere youths caught near a car in a Seymour used car lot early Friday morning, were fined $100 and costs each or 48 days in jail this morning after they pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct.

Robert J. Dorn, and Kenneth N. Hendricks, both 20 and both of route 2, West DePere, appeared before Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller.

Wilfred Mamero, a Seymour policeman, told the court that he saw a car pull into Gustman Motors, Inc., used car lot about 12:30 a.m. Friday. Upon investigating, he found a jacked-up car and Dorn beneath it with a jack handle in his hand. Hendricks was with Dorn, the court was told.

Several lugs had been removed from the wheels on one of the authors, police said.

Dorn and Hendricks, when asked by Judge Keller what they were doing, replied that they intended to "pile up" the tires. They said they did not intend to steal them.

Blue Chips Spoil Market

Gains General, but Laziness Among Key Issues Hurts Trend

NEW YORK (AP)—Laggard action by blue chips muddled the stock market trend early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Gains in the over-all list held a clear-cut advantage over losses but an indifferent showing by pivotal stocks dampened the averages.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .46 at 876.91.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 326.5 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .1 and utilities up .3.

A 2-point loss by Eastman Kodak and drops of about a point by Du Pont and Union Carbide as well as a fractional decline by General Motors dampened the averages.

IBM spurted 7 or 8 points. Gains of a point or so were made by Lorillard, U.S. Smelting, Owens-Illinois and Ford.

Pan American World Airways was active and down nearly a point. Eastern Air Lines dropped more than 2.

Manslaughter Trial of Actor William Holden Delayed Until October

LUCCA, Italy (AP) — The manslaughter trial of actor William Holden, involved in a fatal highway collision last summer, was postponed Saturday until Oct. 26 to give the prosecution and the defense time to re-evaluate the damage claim.

Deputy Public Prosecutor Angelo Antiofermo has asked damages of $128,000 to $160,000. Holden, 49, was charged with manslaughter after his car and an Italian car collided July 26 on a road from Florence to Pisa. The Italian at the wheel of the other car was killed. Holden was uninjured.

Harry Recher, Son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Recher, Appleton, a volunteer worker at the Northern Cheyenne Indian Reservation in Montana, entertains a group of Indian children with his guitar.

Started as Vista Volunteer

Appleton Man Helps Build New Community for Indian People

"The Cheyenne people were very reserved at first and didn't come around for a visit for about a month," Harry Recher said in describing his reception as a Vista volunteer at Birney Village on the Northern Cheyenne Reservation in Montana.

"I learned later from the Capuchin Fathers who run the St. Labre Indian School and Mission on the reservation that until you are there a year, you aren't even there as far as the Indian people are concerned," Recher added.

Appleton Native Recher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Recher, 1020 W. Harris St., Appleton, served with Vista at the village for one year. Then, in reluctance to leave the Cheyenne people, he volunteered for service with the Capuchin Fathers at the St. Labre school.

At Birney Village the purpose of the Vista workers was to help build a community among the Indian people.

Recher spoke of the village as an Indian camp in the "truest sense of the word." The camp consisted of about 180 Cheyennes and a few Arapahoe and Sioux who had married into the tribe.

Response Not Lasting Work at Birney was difficult and the limited response of the people wasn't lasting. The volunteers were left to work with only the children of the village, giving them their first contact with the white man.

Recher suggested that a main problem of the Indian population was a lack of initiative brought about by a life of government welfare which took the place of the now lost traditional Indian way of life. He commented, "all initiative and desire to do for themselves has been beaten out of them."

High Unemployment Unemployment runs high at the reservation. Outside of government work, the only regular source of employment is a nearby plastics factory started some years ago with the aid of a Capuchin priest.

The factory now employs between 110 and 150 workers, but many persons are still on government welfare payments.

The factory now employs between 110 and 150 workers, but many persons are still on government welfare payments.

"Some of the people manage to get part-time jobs branding cattle or haying two or three weeks a year," Recher explained. "Others get two or three months work doing general work on the ranches or get seasonal work on highway construction. There were a couple of good mechanics in the village, but no place for them to use their skill."

When his year of service with Vista ended in September, Recher contacted Father Emmett at the Capuchin mission and told of his desire to continue work with the Indian children. He was put to work immediately.

The mission school enrolled 427 Cheyenne and Crow children in the grade and high schools. Youngsters board at the school five days a week.

Assigned as a dormitory prefect for boys from fifth grade through high school, Recher came to know and understand the boys.

'Beautiful Kids'

He said, "These are beautiful kids and they are good kids. Some are rough characters but you get to understand this when you know their background. They are kids like any others. They need love and affection and they need an adult male figure they can look up to. The majority of them have no father authority figure at home."

As at Birney, the Indian children at the school were at first reserved. Recher added, "Finally they would come to my room at night and I would get out my guitar and we would sit and sing. Eventually the barriers started to give way and they would come with their

Seymour Women Hurt in 2-Car Crash at Oneida

Carol Springers, 333 Morrow St., Seymour, suffered minor injuries when the car in which she was riding was involved in a two-car accident at 12:30 p.m. Saturday on State 54 in the Town of Oneida.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Anna Gerl, Plymouth, which Outagamie County sheriff's authorities reported hit the rear of a car driven by Daniel E. Fierst, 45, Green Bay.

Fierst had stopped as he was heading west on 54, waiting for a car to turn. The woman driver said she tried to stop but slid into the Fierst car.

Fierst and Hazel Drake, 44, a passenger in the Fierst car, were reported uninjured. The Plymouth woman suffered a cut on the nose.

The 1965 model Fierst vehicle was damaged on the bumper and rear door, estimated at $175. Damage to the 1965 Gerl car was estimated at $200.

Mayors Contacted In Dispute Over Airline Service

Mayors in the Fox Valley, and presumably other Wisconsin cities, were being contacted today by two airlines involve in a squabble over a Chicago to New York route application.

North Central Airlines, which formerly served Appleton, and continues to serve Oshkosh, Green Bay and Manitowish, applied to the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) for authorization to make the non-stop New York flight.

Copies of the application were sent to Mayor George Buckley of Appleton, and other mayors in the area.

United Airlines is objecting to the North Central application and has filed a protest with the FAA, copies of which were received by Buckley and other Valley mayors today.

United claims there is no need for another carrier on the Milwaukee-New York route.

"Can Joey Niekro pitch?" yelled Randy Hundley.

"Yes, he can," bellowed Ron Santo.

"Can Ernie Banks hit?" shouted Dick Radatz.

"Yes, he can," answered Banks. "Let's play another one."

It went on and on. The surprising third-place Chicago Cubs were acting like a bunch of kids, having a ball after sweeping a doubleheader from Houston 4-1 and 8-0 Sunday.

It wasn't at all like a team that has not finished in first division since 1946.

The Cubs have blown their balloon so big, they've moved within four games of first place in the National League after front-running St. Louis lost a twin bill to Philadelphia 6-4 and 10-4.

Within 1 1/2 Games

Chicago also pulled within 1 1/2 games of second-place Cincinnati as Pittsburgh beat the Reds 5-4.

Clete Boyer of Atlanta has been having a good time, too. His hot bat boosted the Braves to a 4-2 victory over the New York Mets.

In the other National League game, Los Angeles defeated San Francisco 2-1 on Len Gabrielson's run-scoring pinch hit single in the ninth inning.

Twins Top White Sox

Angels Win, 4-3 on Reichardt's Grand Slam

Rick Reichardt will remember his first grand slam homer as the one that didn't reach the seats.

The Kansas City Athletics will write it off as just another bad top.

But California's George Brunet will count it as one of the few good bounces he's had all year.

Reichardt's initial bases-loaded homer in the majors—an inside-the-park shot that caromed crazily past right fielder Mike Hersherberger in the first inning—carried Brunet and the Angels past the A's 4-3 Sunday.

The victory was only the fourth in 15 decisions for Brunet, a hard-luck southpaw who recently lost nine in a row while the Angels scored a total of 18 runs for him.

Boston Wins

In other American League games, Minnesota topped the first place Chicago White Sox 3-1, Baltimore drubbed Washington 8-3, the New York Yankees shamed Detroit 3-2 and Boston whipped Cleveland 8-3.

Jim Fregosi beat out an infield hit with two out in the first inning and KC starter John "Blue Moon" Odom walked Don Mincher and Jimmie Hall, filling the bases, before Reichardt's drive off the right field

Twin Bill Sweep Costly as Foxes' Spence is Injured

Highly-Touted Bonus Slugger Dislocates Shoulder; Quincy Here for Two-Game Series

BY TIM PETERMANN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

If you know what the outcome of a sports event will be even before you go to it, half the fun of viewing the contest is gone.

A case in point has been the meeting of the Appleton Foxes and the Decatur Commodores. It has become almost routine in the past two years to figure a win for the Foxes when they play Decatur and Sunday was no different as the Foxes swept a day-night doubleheader from the San Francisco Giants' farm club, struggling to a 5-4 victory in an 11-inning afternoon affair, and capturing a 5-3 decision in the nightcap, for Appleton's 18th

Smith 11th in Hoosier Classic

Appleton Racer Gets $526 as Don White Wins at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Don White of Keokuk, Iowa, in defending his championship in the Hoosier Classic 100-mile stock car race, collected $5,298 of the record purse.

More than 200,000 persons at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Saturday night saw White qualify for the pole position, then charge ahead after a battle with Parnelli Jones and A. J. Foyt to stay in front the final 72 miles.

Jones, of Torrance, Calif., finished second and won $2,804. Foyt, of Houston, led one lap and blew an engine.

Accidents — in which there were no injuries — held down the speed to an average 82.873 miles per hour but the purse reached a high of $20,983.

The first 12 finishers, and earnings, excluding live per cent deductions for the USAC point fund:

1. Don White, Keokuk, Iowa, 1967 Dodge, $5,298
2. Parnelli Jones, Torrance, Calif., 1967 Ford, $2,804
3. Al Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., 1967 Dodge, $1,756
4. Butch Hamilton, Louisville, Ky., 1965 Dodge, $1,229
5. J. C. Klotz, Fort Wayne, Ind., 1965 Plymouth, $1,053
6. Norm Nelson, Racine, Wis., 1967 Plymouth, $834
8. Ray Darnell, Deerfield, Ill., 1965 Ford, $570
9. Norm Brown, Grand Rapids, Mich., 1966 Ford, $514
10. Bill Cheesbourg, Tucson, Ariz., 1967 Ford, $446
11. Jerry Smith, Appleton, Wis., 1965 Plymouth, $356
12. Jack Bowsher, Springfield, Ohio, 1967 Ford, $439.

and 19th consecutive wins over Decatur.

Not since August 20, 1965, has Decatur beaten the Foxes, and that was a 1-0 triumph in a 4:55, 20-inning marathon.

Tonight the Foxes will open their final home series against Quincy and last two games of the first half of the Midwest League's split season. Right-hander Ken Murphy is expected to open on the mound tonight (8 p.m.) with Tom Rows slated for Tuesday.

Since Wisconsin Rapids clinched the Midwest League Championship Saturday night, the victories mean very little, and proved very costly for Foxes' manager Alex Cosmidis.

Bonus Slugger

Bob Spence, the Chicago White Sox' highly-touted bonus slugger from Santa Clara University, dislocated his shoulder in the second game and will be lost to the club for three or four weeks.

The 6-foot-4, left-hander, was appearing in only his fifth game for the Foxes since joining the club out of school when he injured himself stretching for a throw in a close play at first.

It was Spence who had lifted the Foxes past Decatur in the afternoon contest. After an infield hit by Jeff Kolb and a double by Carlos May, Spence drilled a shot just short of the left center field fence to drive in the winning run in the 11th. Earlier in the seventh inning, he had also snapped a tie (3-3) with a hard smash to center that plated a run.

The afternoon tilt was unusual in the fact that it was the Foxes fourth extra-inning game in the past week, the sixth of the year, and first before the home crowd. Appleton has dropped only one of those overtime games.

Costly Error

Decatur jumped on starter Durant Cooper for three runs in the first two innings on five hits and a costly error.

The Foxes got things going in the third when Jose Ortiz, celebrating his 20th birthday, hit down the right field line and with his tremendous speed turned the hit into a double. He went to third on a walk and raced home on Jeff Kolb's groundout. Carlos May followed with a single, stole second and came in on a muffed grounder. Appleton took the lead in the

Little Chute, Macs Reach Finals of District Tournament

Chuters Get by Bonduel, 3-2; King Hurls Shutout for Menasha

MENASHA — No teams but Little Chute and the Menasha Macs have won the Fox River Valley District Baseball Tournament since 1954 and the pattern hasn't changed this year.

The long-time Fox River Valley League rivals posted victories in the semi-finals here Sunday afternoon and will clash at 3:30 p.m. Saturday for the title and a berth in the state tournament at Madison next month.

Little Chute scored three times in the first inning and then held on to down Bonduel, 3-2, while manager Hank King pitched a three-hitter and had plenty of offensive support from his teammates as Menasha trounced Seymour, 12-0.

The Little Chute-Bonduel game was called after seven innings because of the time limit while the nightcap went nine.

Bonduel and Seymour will collide at 1:30 p.m. Saturday for the third place trophy.

Terry Holding, with the help of Bob Kleinke, limited Bonduel to three hits. Loser John Wartman gave up six.

The Chuters counted in the first inning on three walks and singles by Rog Gerrits, Lee Neumeier and Dick Zeratsky.

Bonduel Scores

The Broncos got one back in the third on a walk and Doug Elerston's triple and came up with another in the sixth on a walk, an error, a sacrifice and a sacrifice fly. The potential tying run was caught in a rundown between second and third and tagged out.

In Bonduel's final inning, Bill Raaths walked and Pat Wudtke drove Gerrits into deep center to grab his fly ball.

Gerrits collected two of Little Chute's six hits while Elerston had a pair for the Broncos.

King, who hasn't allowed a run in two games, spaced Seymour's hits in the second, fourth, sixth innings. He struck out 11 and walked one.

The Macs pounded Tom Ullmer and Wayne Gillson, who relieved in the ninth, for a dozen hits.

Menasha scored two runs in the first inning, added three in the second on Terry Soley's homer, posted another on Bruce Erickson's homer in the fourth and closed with six in the ninth on seven hits and a walk. Erickson and Bud Koehnke each drove in two runs in the big frame.

Erickson, King, Larry Thompson and Mike LeRoy all collected two hits for the Macs while Fuzzy Frenette, Rich Eisenrath and Bob Heagle notched the Seymour safeties.

The line scores:

Little Chute 200 000 0-3 6 1
Bonduel 001 001 0-2 3 1
Holding, Kleinke (6) and Neumeier; Wartman and Luepke.

Menasha 230 100 006-12
Seymour 000 000 000-0
King and Rudolph; Ullmer, Gillson (9) and Heagle.

Walter Hayden, who played for Milwaukee the last four years, scored three goals for Buntyco to lead its attack and provide the highest scoring effort of the day.

Del Carroll, who rode for Milwaukee several years ago, added two goals for the Chicago club, as did Dan Healy, 18. Chicago started with a two-goal advantage because of its lower rating.

Rapids Splits Doubleheader With Quincy

Wisconsin Rapids' Twins, who have already captured the Midwest League's first half championship, split their doubleheader with Quincy Sunday.

With Appleton's sweep of its twin bill, the Twins now lead the Foxes by 3½ games, but it makes little difference to either club since Rapids has already clinched the title.

Wisconsin Rapids won its first game on a 3-hit shutout by Hall and Brantley and then Quincy rapped three Rapids' hurlers for 13 hits and 12 runs in winning the nightcap.

Clinton took a pair of double victories from Burlington over the weekend and jumped from eighth to the No. 5 spot in the standings while Burlington now occupies Clinton's eighth position. Clinton won the first game of Sunday's doubleheader, 6-1, then the two teams battled for 12 innings before the Pilots pushed across a run to win, 2-1, in the nightcap.

Dubuque swept a doubleheader from Waterloo Saturday but the Hawks came back to take a double victory Sunday.

Primo Carnera in Grave Condition, Remains in Coma
SEQUALS, Italy (AP) — The condition of Primo Carnera, who fell into a coma two days ago, was reported unchanged Sunday.
Doctors said only the remarkable strength of the boxer, who was born in Italy, was keeping him alive.
He is suffering from cirrhosis of the liver.
Carnera, the so-called "Jolly Giant" of boxing, won the world crown in 1933.
He returned last month from his long residence in the United States to this village in northern Italy where he was born 60 years ago.
Dr. Mario Comin, a physician who has been treating Carnera since his return, told newsmen his condition was stationary.
Carnera was being fed with intravenous injections, and oxygen was being administered to him to help his breathing.

Sweep Proves Costly, Foxes Lose Spence

seventh on Ortiz' double, Kolb's walk, and May's and Spence's singles.

Decatur knotted the score in eighth on Bob Fenwick's sacrifice fly.

Down Swinging

The Foxes had a chance to pull the game out in the 10th but Willie Hooker and Ortiz went down swinging with the bases loaded.

In the top of the 11th it appeared as if the Commodores would snap the Foxes' win streak as a walk, an error, and a dribbler loaded the bases with one out. Hooker then lived up to his fireman's role as he bared down and fired three pitches past Don Hahn and fanned John Harrell on four to end the inning and give Spence the opportunity for his heroics. Hooker picked up the win in relief, his first since May 9.

The long, drawn-out affair (2:49) saw each team collect 13 hits with the Foxes' May and the visitors' Fenwick each slapping three. Decatur stranded 16 runners on base as they went down in order only once. Appleton left 14 on base.

Former Marion standout Ken Frailing came up with his best performance of the year, both on the mound and at the plate to pace the Foxes' night victory.

First Wins of Year

Frailing picked up his first win of the year after a couple of 1-run defeats and in the process struck out 10 Decatur batters. Only Al Fitzmorris of the Foxes pitching corps, has surpassed Frailing's strikeout total for a game, and he has done it five times.

Frailing had trouble getting unloosed as a walk, an error and two hits produced a run in the first. He had little trouble until the eighth when a free pass, two hits and an error produced a pair of runs.

Unlike his previous two decisions when his teammates have backed him with only three runs, Appleton tallied five times.

They waited until the third again to get moving and it was Frailing who started things with a double. Kolb got on a single and then May slammed a triple off the fence in right center to plate both runners.

Ortiz collected his second bunt single of the game and fourth hit of the day to start a rally in the fifth. Kolb also beat out a bunt and a throw to catch the streaking Ortiz at third went wild and he raced home with the first run. Bob Mewes knocked in the second with a hit to left.

Joe Monty closed out the Foxes scoring as he connected on a 2-3 pitch with two out in the eighth for a home run over the left field fence for his only hit of the twin bill.

Both teams again matched each other in hits with nine. Decatur left 10 batters stranded for a total of 26 in the doubleheader. With Appleton's seven left on base, there were 47 runners left on base in the 20 innings of play for both teams.

Red-Hot Cubs Take Twin Bill From Astros

teammate Hank Aaron and seven off the league lead.

"There's no secret or anything different," Boyer said. "I'm just borrowing the RBI from Joe (Joe Torre, who is out with a sprained ankle).

"If he was playing, they'd be his. He'd be coming up in the situations I'm facing now. Those guys on base when I'm up now would be there so Joe could drive them in. I'd be following him."

Saved Victory

The Braves also got help from another Niekro, Joe's brother Phil, who pitched three shutout innings to save the victory for Pat Jarvis.

Gabrielson's two-out hit off Frank breaking a 1-1 tie, came after Willie Davis singled and took second on an infield out, and gave Don Drysdale a seven-hit triumph.

Hope Fades for Switch In School Jurisdiction

Merkel Plan Would Have Put Green Bay,
Kenosha Plants in State University System

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The Board of Regents of State Colleges indicated Friday that it has given up hope of gaining control of the new branch campuses of the University of Wisconsin through legislative action at the present. The view was expressed in connection with the Merkel bill, which would transfer control of new campuses at Green Bay and in Kenosha County to the state university system which the board controls.

Mrs. Mary Williams, Stevens Point, suggested to board members at their meeting here that they send a letter of appreciation to Assemblyman Kenneth Merkel of Waukesha County, author of the bill, for his confidence in the state university system as suggested by his views and his proposal.

Dissuaded by Others

But she was dissuaded by other members of the board, who during a brief discussion, indicated that they would have voted down her suggestion if she had put it in the form of a motion.

"I wanted only to let him know how we felt about it," she said.

"We can write to him privately, as individuals," replied Eugene Murphy of LaCrosse, chairman of the board.

Given Little Chance

The Merkel bill is given very little chance of approval in the Assembly, where the Assembly Education Committee already has recommended defeat, by a vote of six to three.

The question of jurisdiction over the new schools was decided when the authorizing legislation was enacted in 1965.

The University of Wisconsin and state university systems fought spiritedly then, and the legislature chose the UW as parent for the new institutions by a decisive margin.

Plane Afire Before Crash

Investigators Seek Cause of Accident
Fatal to 34 Persons

BLOSSBURG Pa. (AP) — Witnesses say they saw fire in the tail section of a Mohawk Airlines jetliner just before it crashed into a mountain Friday, killing all 34 persons aboard.

This was reported in interviews conducted Sunday by federal investigators seeking the cause of the crash of the British-made BAC111 in this remote north-central Pennsylvania community after takeoff from Elmira, N.Y. It was en route from Syracuse, N.Y., to Washington, D.C.

Edward Slattery, information officer for the National Transportation Safety Board, said the interviews indicated the plane seemed to be flying lower than normal and that pieces of debris fell off it just before the crash.

He said weather did not appear to be a factor in the crash and that no evidence of sabotage has so far been uncovered.

The jetliner's voice and flight recorder have been sent to Washington for examination, he said.

Slattery said a major task ahead is the identification of bodies, most of which were mutilated and dismembered. All the remains have not yet been recovered, he said.

New Studies will Raise Odds on Marriages

BY SYLVIA PORTER

The day is coming when you, a young married couple, will be able to "take a pink pill if you want a girl, a blue pill if you want a boy, and a white pill if you want neither." Almost surely, this freedom of choice will increase the proportion of boy-babies and thereby increase the number of males eligible for marriage at all ages.

This, in turn, will eliminate the shortage of middle-aged eligible males and a result, millions of older widows and divorcees will no longer be forced to remain without male companionship for 10 or 20 or even more years. Our whole society will be healthier and happier.

This was one of the cheerful prospects outlined by Dr. Paul C. Glick, a chief population expert for the U.S. bureau of Census and president of the Population Association of Amer-

He suggests that the term "marriage quotient" will come into usage. If you are already married, your marriage quotient would be the probability revealed in the tables that married couples similar to yours are remaining married "until death do ye part."

If you are single, widowed or divorced, the tables would show which kind of partner would give you the highest quotient.

Help Counselors

As another illustration, the statistics would be of enormous help to professional marriage counselors. Armed with tables showing the probabilities of permanent marriage under various circumstances, says Glick, "marriage counselors could deal with the problems of prevention, cure and rehabilitation in the marriage field with more nearly the degree of confidence that physicians, surgeons and psychiatrists deal with problems in the medical field."

The central objective of the research is to shed light on the tie between poverty and early marriage, broken marriage or the difficulty in becoming married.

But the facts to be uncovered will also help marriage become more selective and will help minimize separation and divorce. The contribution will be toward permanence of marriage — and that is the very foundation of our society.

Technician's Training Pays Off for Speeder

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Harry Gilley brought his radar book to court recently to prove radar doesn't work very well on hot days. He said he was going only 53 miles an hour when radar clocked him at 63 in a 45-m.p.h. zone. Gilley said he had been an Army radar technician for seven years. The judge fined him the minimum $2.

Kosygin's Press Conference

Premier Kosygin's press conference at the United Nations was remarkable not for what he said but for the fact that it took place. The idea of the top Soviet leader coming to the United States and making himself available to the press would have seemed preposterous only a few weeks ago. But the Russian premier proved himself a professional at public relations during his entire U.S. visit, quite in contrast to the boisterous performance of his predecessor Nikita Khrushchev some years ago. And the response of the American people, the crowds gathered at Glassboro and those in New York and Niagara Falls reflected respect as a result.

The press conference was an educational experience for the American television audience. It provided a practical first-hand look at the workings of Russian Communist diplomacy. When the Russian leaders adopt a party line on a given international problem they hammer at it and hammer at it and will not be diverted by consideration or speculation on any other courses of action.

Hence Israel must be condemned as an aggressor, must withdraw behind the armistice lines and must be made to pay reparations before Russia will even talk about any other aspects of permanent peace arrangements in the Middle East. And the United States must withdraw its troops from Vietnam, unconditionally, before any further discussions can take place on Southeast Asia or the rest of the world, for that matter.

It must be borne in mind that Premier Kosygin could not alter that line in the slightest respect even if he were inclined to do so. He is a spokesman for the Soviet government, not the architect of its foreign policy. And we must keep this in mind also in speculating on what might have been said between him and President Johnson in the two conferences at Glassboro. The purpose of the meetings was to clearly define each government's position to each other and hopefully to determine if there was middle ground on any issues that could be explored in the future in normal diplomatic exchanges.

But this is not to say that the conferences were not useful. At the very least it is good if these two nations clearly understand each other. And we must compliment Premier Kosygin for the unemotional manner in which he outlined his government's positions in the press conference and in which he referred to the United States position.

Undoubtedly one of the emotions which generated the public response to Kosygin on his visit to our country was the vague hope of many Americans that a way can be found to end the war in Vietnam. We should resist the temptation now to bemoan the failure of the conferences to resolve that question, because there really was no hope in the first place that they could do so in a few hours of conversation.

De Gaulle's Boasting Hurts

President de Gaulle is obviously using the Middle East conflict to chortle "I told you so" to the United States and try to bolster his own hand-off attitude toward that war and the one in Vietnam. But there is more than a hint of truth in his declaration that the two conflicts are linked.

According to De Gaulle "the war started in Vietnam by American intervention cannot help but spread trouble, not only there but far away. From that came the attitude of China and the speedup of its armament. From that came the psychological and political process which led to the fight in the Middle East."

We can doubt that Red China needed encouragement for its policy of isolation and aggression or what it felt was its need to develop the hydrogen bomb and perhaps a missile carrier because of that isolation and aggression. But Americans who argue, as does President Johnson, that our forces are in Vietnam only to halt aggression and let an abused people live in peace, neglect to recognize the competition for markets in Asia, the very real fear of American domination, the statements of our military leaders about how long our troops will have to stay in Vietnam, and the sad fact that our presence there is a denial of American tradition. We are backing those who fought against independence. We have taken over a war for a regime, if not itself completely corrupt at least heavily infiltrated with corruption. And we seem to be ignoring what may be the real desires of the majority of South Vietnamese.

Of course it was the fact that we are bogged down in Vietnam that encouraged the Russians and the Arabs to raise tensions in the Middle East to the ignition point.

De Gaulle must justify his own neutrality and his intransigence on cooperation with other European powers. But he is beginning to do a pretty good job of it.

Legislators and Education

Again there is an attempt in the legislature to impose the politicians' view of what should be offered in the curriculum of the public high school in Wisconsin. Evidently sponsored by the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce, the measure would require explicit instruction about the free enterprise economic system and to place "particular emphasis on the dangers of restricting or artificially hampering the principles of self-determination, free competition and the opportunity for self-improvement in a free society."

We do not share the zeal of some reflex critics of the legislature that the schools are the exclusive province of the professional educators. The schools are a part of our democratic governmental system, and the legislature has as much right to be concerned about their performance as it has to assess critically the work of the highway administration, the welfare department, the health service or any of the others of hundreds of agencies for the support of which it is taxing the people of Wisconsin more heavily with each passing year.

Yet when the legislature proposes to write a prescription in detail for curriculum content, it seems to be saying that what is now being taught is inadequate. We have heard no legislative critic make such a charge directly, nor to our knowledge does the State Chamber so assert. The State Department of Public Instruction, which is the constitutional overseer of the public school system, says in fact that economics is now being taught in the high schools, and that as far as it knows, it is being taught adequately.

If a legislature that is conservatively oriented, as is the one now sitting in Madison, can impose its views about economic orthodoxy upon the school curriculum practices, will another in a future time that may represent a liberal or even collectivist ideology be justified in rewriting such requirements to its different tastes?

There has been too much legislative tinkering with school instruction schedules and content already. Given our own free rein we would remove the statutory mandates for the teaching of the principles of cooperative enterprise, and of natural resources conservation, which surely can also be accommodated in the integrated economics course of the well-organized high school. We have some reservations about the auto driving courses in the schools, which are diverting study time and teacher resources unnecessarily. At the least, such instruction to boys and girls, wise and necessary as it is in a time of universal vehicle ownership and the stark tragedy of a high rate of highway accidents, should be on the students' own time. A few years ago aviation enthusiasts brought in a bill to clutter up the high school schedule by requiring a course in aviation. Happily it was defeated.

The Chamber of Commerce has shown a refreshingly vigorous concern about the public schools of Wisconsin in recent years. We salute it for that, but the temptation to impose special interest values in the education process ought to be avoided, as it would be the first to assert under reverse circumstances.

Expo 67 Highlights Canada as Our Best Customer, Longtime Friend

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

MONTREAL — This country, the second largest in the world, is much more than Expo 67. It's a monument to the power of hope.

The exposition started out as unappreciated as an honest cop. But now that it is entirely finished after many months of toil by the skyscraper workmen pounding on iron and steel — the woodpeckers of the modern world — the Canadians have proved once more that it doesn't pay to be a doubting Thomas where they are concerned.

Cities that are ports have a pulse beat that inland cities never know, and here the pulse beat is registered by its river. The mighty St. Lawrence has already flowed a thousand miles from the head of our lakes and has a thousand miles to roll before reaching the Atlantic Ocean.

Eight out of 10 Canadians live within 200 miles of the U.S. border. The St. Lawrence Seaway, opened only eight years ago, offers a deep channel from Duluth, Minn., to the sea and opens upper America to 80 per cent of the world's salt-water fleets. Its by-products are 21 ports in Canada.

BEST CUSTOMER

Canada is our biggest and best export customer. We do more business with Canada and Japan alone than with all the Common Market countries. And with not a great many more people than New York or California, Canada is the world's seventh nation in manufacturing and fifth in world trade.

Our taxpayers' dollars pour out like daisies to 82 countries on a "the-world-loves-me, the-world-loves-me-not" basis, as if we are merely trying to see which petal is at the bottom of the barrel. But not to Canada.

Canada has never accepted gifts from the United States in peace or war. Like Finland, it has always paid for what it received, although the Canadians have never received proper recognition for this.

Further, Canada has provided immense amounts to other nations — including to Mrs. McCarty's husband, who founded the organization.

Mrs. Eugene Genal, Appleton, was general chairman of the Amvet Commander's Ball held in connection with the state veteran's organization convention. Mrs. Ales Mallas, Oshkosh, was elected new state auxiliary president at the women's business meeting that day.

Walter H. Bisping, Menasha, was installed as deputy grand commander of the Grand Templar of Wisconsin at Commandery of Knights ceremonies in Milwaukee.

A. A. Glockzin, Appleton, was named to the governing board of the Mid-West Conference of Male Chorus at the two-day meeting of the group at Shawano Lake. Glockzin was the director of Appleton MacDowell Male Chorus.

30 YEARS AGO Monday, June 24, 1937.

Two Kaukauna educators were honored by the Kaukauna High School Alumni Association at its annual rally. They were Fred Barribou, athletic coach at the school since 1943, and Mrs. Joseph McCarty, former high school teacher and member of the school board. The rally was dedicated Britain — in mutual aid, and is at its own expense a major partner in both the American defense and the North Atlantic defense program.

Then Canada, with a population of less than 20 million, tops all this off with large-scale assistance to underdeveloped countries.

Business is good — but not is lower than any Western European industrialized nation on the continent. As a result, the costs are usually higher, and the deliveries relatively slow, into this preferential Canadian market.

In contrast, Russia and several Iron Curtain countries are doing conspicuously well.

WHEAT CONTRACTS

Red China and East Germany are financing much of their Canadian buying directly through a Canadian government agency, and Canada continues to grant new wheat contracts on special terms to Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

The lathe is the father of all machine tools. It is the only tool that can reproduce itself. The Russians are specialists in low-cost lathes and a surprising number of Canada factories are now entirely equipped with them.

Hungary's precision instruments are good. Hungary supplied most of the difficult instrumentation for Russia's uranium development in Czechoslovakia. Hungarian optical and glass products are also well entrenched throughout Europe. NIKEX, the Hungarian Foreign Trade Enterprise Bureau, is pushing all of these here.

The Czechs are busy. The immense Skoda complex I visited not too long ago at Pilsen, and the Bata shoe works, Europe's largest, are pressing their products at low prices. The work week in Red Czechoslovakia is 51 hours — six on Saturday — and the workers get next to nothing for it.

Tiny Monaco's short border next to France sprouts only flowers. Our 4,000-mile border with Canada has been unfortified for more than 100 years. Nothing comparable exists anywhere in the entire world.

Can a Helicopter Help With Birth Control Problems in India?

BOMBAY, India (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has given Indian officials a "gimmick" for popularizing and speeding up this country's family planning program, according to Health Minister Sriprati Chandrasekhar.

Chandrasekhar told newsmen Rusk was rushed by helicopter to the funeral ceremony of Jawaharlal Nehru in 1964 and that many thousands of peasants in the crowd watched, fascinated by the aircraft.

The cabinet officer theorizes that movement of family planning teams to rural villages by 'copter would not only attract many villagers, but would also enable the teams to cover more villages.

Air Pollution Law Could be Milestone Of This Legislature

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — While the legislature chose to tread cautiously in the new field of public regulation, the air pollution control act which is in the process of enactment may stand as one of the many far-reaching achievements of the year in Capitol affairs.

Doubtless Wisconsin for the most part has been fortunate in having little direct experinage of refuse and garbage collected in even a city of medium size needs no reminding of the cumulative effect of careless and unplanned disposal of such waste matter over a period of a few decades.

The regulation of air pollution promises to be more difficult, as the authors of the new legislation acknowledged when they proceeded with considerable care in spite of the taunting of Democrats who insisted that a control program should be vigorous and punitive immediately.

COUNTIES TO ENACT

In general, the assumption is that the state government will act as a kind of overseer and guide for the counties which will enact the regulatory ordinances. The primary function of the State Department of Resource Development will be studies and planning and to act as a monitor of air pollution problems in the various sections of the state.

All of which may appear conservationist and the professional critic of business and industry. Yet it is a beginning. It is unlikely that there are many other states where the problem is not yet severe that have acted in any way.

The precedent of state activity in the field of water protection is illustrative here. Wisconsin started legislating in the field of water pollution nearly 40 years ago. But the state only two years ago achieved laws of sufficient breadth and force to satisfy the most militant of the critics of the surface water pollution problem. Indeed, even that "get tough" law has scarcely been put into operation. The officials in charge are still busy deliberating the standards of water quality they will attempt to apply and enforce.

The meaning of the new legislation now headed for the statute books is in the acknowledgment, perhaps belatedly but nevertheless candidly, that there is an interrelationship in conservation problems, that air, land and water pollution are not separate issues, but can best be managed on a concerted basis by the authority of government.

SHARP RISE PREDICTED

As the preface to the pending pollution bill notes, "the high level of production required to meet the varied needs of an expanding population and high standard of living has resulted in a sharp rise in the amount of waste materials discarded annually."

The prospective addition to the state pollution laws will cover the regulation of solid wastes and refuse disposal, as well as the contamination of the atmosphere by dust, fumes, smoke, gas or odorous substances of many kinds.

The act declares that there is a problem of land pollution, as well as pollution of water and the air. Anyone who has observed the enormous ton-

Why Treat Divorces Like Criminal Cases?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In the many reforms of our criminal code, proposed by a recent President's commission, no mention was made of the matter of divorce. Yet divorce is, in a way, treated like a criminal offense in almost all states.

In suits for divorce, there are the "innocent" and the

of a marriage, rather than decide the guilt or innocence of the principals."

Obviously, this makes much more sense (and honesty) than the procedures we now follow. Under the adversary system, most couples perjure themselves in the divorce courts, with the knowledge and connivance of their lawyers. They bring fake charges, give false testimony, and even suborn witnesses to lie in their behalf. And most of it is collusive.

As the British committee observed, if the marriage "breakdown" principle is adopted, a duty, for instance, would no longer be sufficient ground for divorce, as it is today. The whole fabric of the marriage would be examined — with no question of legal guilt or blame — to determine whether it was salvageable or hopeless.

We know that there are no "innocent bystanders" in a bad marriage; that it takes the interaction of two personalities to cause a breakdown in the relationship; and that the law is necessarily blind to most of the psychiatric and social forces that move a marriage toward dissolution. Treating the parties as though they were criminals only breeds disrespect for the law and evasion of its true intent.

Divorce should not be retributive or punitive, but should aim at treating the rupture with fairness and sympathy to all parties. In our present system, it is too often unfair, vindictive, and arbitrary. Unlike all other contracts, the marriage contract belongs more to the field of medicine than to the field of law.

Two Valley Youths Killed in Accidents

Black Creek, Marion Drivers Involved in Head-on Crashes

Two Fox Valley area youths died early Sunday morning in head-on highway collisions. Killed were: David G. Kust, 20, route 2, Black Creek, and John Draeger, 19, Marion. The Black Creek youth was alone in a car which collided with another on State 47 in Outagamie County about 3 a.m. Sunday. Two Oshkosh residents were injured in the three-car crash three miles south of Black Creek.

Draeger died Sunday evening at Neenah's Theda Clark Hospital of injuries sustained when the car he was driving five miles north of Tigerton in Shawano County collided with a car driven by a Menasha man about 1:50 a.m. Sunday. Kust was killed almost instantly from what Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said was a severe head injury. He was the county's 12th highway fatality of the year.

Taken by Lindy's Ambulance to Appleton Memorial Hospital were Aaron R. Huettl, 21, 1508 Liberty St., Oshkosh, and his passenger, Therese Frank, 23, 1131 W. Seventh Ave., Oshkosh.

Outagamie police said Huettl suffered multiple face, hand and leg lacerations and a concussion. Miss Frank had a concussion and knee abrasions.

Escapes Injury

Walter J. Lappen, 30, 815 Plank Road, Menasha, driver of the third car, escaped injury. He was alone in his vehicle, as was Kust.

According to police, Kust and Lappen were southbound on 47, when Kust passed Lappen and collided with the oncoming Huettl car. Lappen told police he tried to stop, but struck the Kust car which then veered into the west ditch and rolled over.

Kust was still inside his overturned car when the Black Creek rescue squad arrived. Black Creek firemen also were called to flush gas that leaked from the wrecked autos.

Lappen's convertible ended up crossways on the highway, and the Huettl auto careened into the east ditch. The entire left side of the Huettl car was damaged, indicating that Huettl and Kust sideswiped. The accident occurred on a straight stretch of road.

Kust reportedly attended the Milwaukee School of Engineering. His body was released to the Muehl Funeral Home, Seymour.

Crash at Intersection

Draeger's 1964 model car collided with a car driven by Randall Schumacher, 40, 845 Seventh St., Menasha, at the intersection of U. S. 45 and State 153.

Draeger was treated at Tigerton Hospital and transferred to Theda Clark, where he died about 7:35 p.m. Sunday. State patrolmen who investigated the accident said Draeger was

2 Chicago Men Also Die

Omro Boy One of 3 to Drown Over Weekend

OSHKOSH — A Chicago man and a rural Omro boy drowned in Winnebago County late Sunday, the second and third drownings in the county over the weekend.

Dead are:

Thomas G. Hoeft, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hoeft, route 1, Omro, and Varnell Syler, 56, Chicago.

The Hoeft boy was wading along the edge of a stone quarry at County Trunk E and State 116 when he stepped off a steep drop-off, authorities said.

A 6-year-old companion ran to the home of Martin Plotter, owner of the quarry, about 5:30 p.m. and said the boy had fallen in. Mrs. Plotter called Winnebago County and Omro police. The Omro Volunteer Fire Department dragged for the body and recovered it about 6:15 p.m. The boy's parents said he could not swim.

Syler drowned while fishing on the bank of the Fox River near downtown Oshkosh. He apparently fell asleep in his chair and fell into the water.

A friend of Syler fishing on the north bank of the river said she heard a splash and noticed him missing from his chair on the south bank about 11 p.m. Syler's friends called Winnebago County police.

The Oshkosh Fire Department recovered Syler's body by dragging about 11:54 p.m. Coroner Art C. Miller ruled that death was due to drowning.

Syler's friends said they had last noticed him in his chair about 9 p.m. Others who fished near Syler said they saw him about the same time and he appeared to be sleeping.

A 37-year-old Chicago man, James W. Miller, drowned Saturday after the light rowboat he was fishing in was swept over the Neenah dam. A companion narrowly escaped drowning.

Diminishing Gains in Air War

Effectiveness of Bombings Doubted by Many

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some top U. S. officials are beginning to think the air war against North Vietnam is yielding diminishing gains while toughened ground defenses are raising the price in U. S. warplanes.

Certain of them believe it might be a good idea to limit the bombing essential to the supply routes running south through the narrow neck of North Vietnam and to cut down strikes against heavily defended industrial-type targets in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas.

But other authorities argue that to do so would result in swelling the volume of supplies and equipment to Communist forces in South Vietnam.

Those holding this general view say the Communists have been replacing many more anti-aircraft guns in the 150-mile long North Vietnamese panhandle, and that concentrating attacks there would not likely reduce the toll of U. S. planes.

Moreover, they contend that the movement of material should be interdicted not only at the lower end of the funnel but at the top where it enters the infiltration pipeline. Officials inclined toward a slowdown in the air war are not all civilians. Some military men also have doubts about the effectiveness of the bombing.

And those favoring at least continuing the present level of air strikes—possibly an intensification—are not all military.

It is known, however, that the Joint Chiefs of Staff unanimously and vigorously oppose any easing off of the air attacks on Communist military targets in North Vietnam.

Russians Hear 55-Second Report

MOSCOW (AP) — Radio Moscow gave the Soviet people a brief report today on Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's news conference Sunday night, but there was no mention of Kosygin's second meeting with President Johnson.

The noon newscast devoted 55 seconds to the news conference but did not quote the questions or answers directly.

U. S. Bombing Raids Over North Vietnam Sunday exploded an oil dump, upper, and toppled a train. Smoke rises from the dump at Bac Giang, about 44 miles northwest of Hanoi, after being hit by bombs from the carrier Hancock. The train is between Vinh Phuc and Phu Tho provinces. This is the 30th month of U. S. bombing of North Vietnam, with no letup evident in Communist activity in the South.

No Major Settlements Come From Meetings

President Johnson Says Summit to Make World 'Little Less Dangerous'

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin have failed to resolve any of their differences over such major world issues as Vietnam and the Middle East, but they intend to keep in direct contact on these and other problems they debated in their Glassboro summit conference.

The conference ended Sunday night after the two men had spent almost 10 hours together in two days at the small New Jersey town south of Philadelphia. Both told a cheering rain-drenched crowd of their desire to promote peace in the world.

Kosygin returned to New York in a helicopter provided by the President and held a news conference at the United Nations. There he abandoned the smiling countenance displayed at Glassboro and reverted to familiar Soviet attacks on Israel in the Middle East and the United States in Vietnam.

'No Agreement'

Johnson returned to Washington and said in a broadcast statement that "no agreement is readily in sight on the Middle Eastern crisis, and our well known differences over Vietnam continue."

But he added: "I believe it is fair to say that these days at Hollybush have made the world a little less dangerous."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, both now in New York, were left with the hard task of trying to negotiate some concrete accords out of what Johnson called "the spirit of Hollybush." They are expected to begin a series of talks in a day or so.

Hollybush is the name of the home of President Thomas E. Robinson of Glassboro State College where Johnson and Kosygin met on Friday and Sunday.

The major impression left by the conference was that the two leaders, while failing to resolve any of their major differences, had at least demonstrated the intention to keep their conflicts in bounds and thus reduce the risk of nuclear war.

Differ Sharply

Question on Svetlana Sidestepped

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin brushed off a question Sunday night about Joseph Stalin's daughter Svetlana, calling her morally unstable and sick.

The question at Kosygin's news conference was: "Will Svetlana Alliluyeva be allowed to return to Russia to visit her children, or would they be free to visit her here in America?"

The Soviet premier replied: "In that regard, I want to say the following: Alliluyeva is a morally unstable person and she is a sick person and we can only pity those who wish to use her for any political aim or for any aim of discrediting the Soviet country."

"As regards — to any possible travel she may wish to make, that question — those questions just do not arise."

Leaves Kennedy Airport

Kosygin's Plane Heads for Havana

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin left the United States for Cuba today after an historic nine-day stay in this country during which he met with President Johnson and pleaded the Arab cause before the United Nations General Assembly.

The Russian's big turboprop aircraft, Ilyushin 18, lifted off a runway at Kennedy Airport at 12:07 p.m. and turned south toward Cuba on a flight expected to take just over four hours.

Kosygin would be the first high-ranking Soviet official to visit the Caribbean regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro since Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan traveled there in 1962.

The Soviet leader was non-committal when asked if he intended to stop over in Paris to see French President Charles de Gaulle after going to Cuba.

"That I can't say," he said. "We haven't made a decision yet."

Thanks Newsmen

Then Kosygin passed down a line of newsmen, shaking hands with many of them. At the Soviet United Nations mission earlier, he had thanked newsmen for "objectively writing about our trip."

He also thanked Johnson, New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes and the people of New York for the "hospitality accorded me."

A spokesman for Pan American World Airways said earlier there would be 23 persons aboard the Kosygin flight. There were three aircraft in the Kosygin entourage, but the flight plan for Cuba was filed only for the Premier's plane.

On board with him was his daughter, Ludmila Gvishiani.

Woman Hurt In Scuffle With Purse Snatchers

Unidentified Motorist Who Aided Victim Sought by Police

A 60-year-old woman was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment after she was injured in a scuffle with two teen-age purse snatchers in the 400 block of W. Atlantic Street about 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Details of the incident are still incomplete, police said. They are continuing a search for an unknown woman motorist who came to the aid of Miss Agnes Theisen, 518 W. Atlantic St.

The motorist is the only known person, other than Miss Theisen, who saw the young assailants.

Remains for Observation

Miss Theisen was taken to the hospital by Larry's Ambulance where she was treated for a severe laceration to the back of her head and remained for observation.

Miss Theisen told police she was returning home from downtown and was walking west on Atlantic Street. She said she saw two boys walking toward the Atlantic Street intersection with N. Division Street but thought they had turned the opposite direction on Atlantic.

Spins Woman Around

According to police, one of the youths walked up behind Miss Theisen, looped his arm inside the strap of her purse and spun her around two or three times. She fell to the sidewalk where she bumped her head and was momentarily stunned.

The unknown motorist came to her aid at this time and the boys fled.

They were described as being about 17 years old and wearing tan jackets.

Waupaca County Volunteers Plan Activities at King

FREMONT — Entertainment, gifts and goodwill activities for the people of the Barnes Clemens Building of King have been planned by the Waupaca County Red Cross volunteers.

They will supervise game activities during their visits and will sponsor a play to be presented by 25 Poy Sippi women. The Christmas party and the making of 300 gifts for the residents there was also planned.

The Red Cross Volunteers formerly called the Gray Ladies planned their fall and winter schedule at a Thursday picnic held at Mellen Park, Weyauwega. Funds designated toward the Christmas gifts were raised by each lady contributing a wrapped gift. The item became the property of the purchaser, but the funds received will be used for Christmas giving.

Frightened by Findings

2 Boys Dig Up Skull, Bones Near Readfield

WAUPACA — The Waupaca County Sheriff's department received a report Friday of a possible grave robbery but learned that the digging near the Town of Caledonia dump was done by a couple of curious boys who were frightened by what they found and reburied their findings.

Sheriff William Mork said the two 13-year-old boys dug up what they thought might be an old grave near the town dump, located near the intersection of County Trunk H and Pine Road, west of Readfield and found a skull and several bones.

By talking with older people of the area, Mork said he learned that there are three graves near the dump. They

Hartman Park Use Continues to Rise

Swimming Beach, New Road, Camping Spaces to be Added

WAUPACA — The number of campers using the Hartman Creek State Park facilities continues to show great increases each month, according to Ron Nelson, Park manager.

Opened in July, 1966, the park saw only limited service during that year but all that is changed this year. The same is true for all other facilities, including picnicking and fishing.

During May, 529 camper days were spent at the campgrounds which has space available for 35 camping units. June figures will far surpass the previous month. In addition more than 200 Scouts have camped in the ground camping area, Nelson said.

Fishing Popular

The six-acre picnic area located on the shore of Allen Lake, is gaining popularity, Nelson said. Fishing in the lake has also been popular and good catches of panfish have been reported. Several black bass have also been caught but they must be returned to the lake, he added.

Work is now underway on the construction of a new road leading to a future beach. Parking lots also are being built. Work on the road and parking lots is being done by the Waupaca County Highway Department.

Development of the swimming beach is scheduled to start in the near future and should be completed late this summer. "Many of the inquiries received about camping ask if there are swimming facilities available, so as soon as the beach is completed weekend crowds as well as weekday crowds are expected to increase," Nelson said.

In addition to the beach and new road, 10 more camping spaces will be added to the campground and the main road in the grounds will be blacktopped, he said. A mile-long hiking trail around Allen Lake is nearing completion and will be opened as soon as several footbridges across some low areas can be installed, the park manager said.

A group of between 20 to 24 boys from the Mecan Youth Camp have been working at the park daily in recent weeks and will continue to work most of the summer. The boys are clearing brush out of new areas and working on the expansion of the camping area and picnic area at the present time, Nelson said. The 1,000-acre park located 6 miles west of here is designed to accommodate up to 10,000 visitors weekly when it is completed.

Hope to Raise $1,000

Drive Started to Buy Fire Truck for Rawhide

The fund drive for the "Rawhide fire truck" officially began Friday with the sale of tickets to Appleton Fire Chief Roland Kuehn and John M. MacDonald, city council president.

The drive is being conducted by Appleton Fire Fighters Local No. 257, which hopes to raise $1,000 to purchase a 1940 model pumper and other fire fighting equipment. The pumper was driven to Appleton from West Bend earlier this month.

Persons wishing to give money for the truck and equipment are asked to send their donations to the No. 1 fire station, 700 N. Drew St. Door prize tickets can be purchased from Appleton firemen, at any of the four fire stations, or from members of the fire department women's auxiliary.

The fund drive will end July 13 with a free dance at Sabre Lanes. The establishment donated facilities. Music, by two orchestras, will be furnished through the American Federation of Musicians. More than 30 door prizes, including a motorbike, a portable television set, and a camera, will be awarded at the dance. Officials of the fund raising event ask that merchants wishing to donate door prizes contact No. 1 fire station.

The fire truck that will be given Rawhide, Inc., will be on display at Pierce Park during the Jaycees Fourth of July celebration.

changes on the truck to make it more adaptable for Rawhide's use in fire protection. Firemen also will train Rawhide personnel and officials in the use of the pumper and in fire fighting. Fire department mechanics will check over the unit before it is given Rawhide.

An attempt is being made to get area fire departments to donate some of the equipment needed for the truck.

Experiments with "Molotov cocktails" have apparently been conducted on the playground at Columbus Elementary School on N. Oneida Street.

A police investigation, made Friday after a complaint was filed by Everett Draeger, 109 W. Winnebago St., found shattered glass strewn about 100 feet in all directions from the point of explosion. Police said the explosions were set off by wicks made from cheese cloth.

Draeger told police he heard an explosion Wednesday and witnessed the flash and heard the explosion Friday. Both incidents occurred between 9 and 11:15 p.m., he said.

He went to the scene Friday before calling police.

Appleton Girl Chosen Delegate to Model Legislative Session

Patricia Sumnicht, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sumnicht, has been chosen as a delegate to the model legislature, which will be held in Madison July 28-30. A pre-legislative session is planned for today.

The state-wide meeting of Young Republicans and Young Democrats gives students the opportunity to observe the legislative process in action. All sessions will take place in legislative chambers and meeting rooms, and will be conducted by the rules of the legislature, with some slight changes.

Fox Valley Council Organizes Thursday

Strengthened Version of Former Planning Commission to Pick Officers, Establish New Bylaws

The first regional council of governments in the state will elect officers and organize at a meeting beginning at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Little Chute Town Hall.

In addition to the election of chairman and vice-chairman and a declarative resolution of purpose, the group will review existing bylaws and articles and adopt the portions pertinent to the new group.

An executive director and personnel will be appointed and past commission members will be recognized.

The Fox Valley Council of Governments will be a reorganized and strengthened version of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, since its members will be elected officials and thus can discuss intergovernmental problems on a practical level.

The group will be a coordinating agency for development of the Fox Valley metropolitan area.

Four major activities have been cited as the primary services of a council of governments. They are:

'Identify Issues'

—Identify issues and needs which are regional and beyond the scope of any one government —Compile and compare necessary information concerning needs and issues.

Co-op Buys Land In Grand Chute

Outagamie Equity Eventually Will Leave Appleton Location

The Outagamie Equity Co-op has purchased a site in the Town of Grand Chute and intends to eventually relocate its Appleton operation there.

Sheriff Warns About 'Cheap' Paint Jobs

WAUPACA — Sheriff William Mork has issued a warning to county residents to be cautious when purchasing paint jobs from itinerant painters who offer fast, cheap jobs.

"Each year several county residents are swindled by painters who spray roofs and buildings with a silver paint, collect their money and then move on," Mork said. Most of the paint washes off the first time it rains, he added.

There have been reports that such painters are working in neighboring counties and can be expected to turn up here any time, Mork warned.

Persons needing painting done should rely on reputable painters to do the work, not someone who drives up in a truck with out-of-state license plates and offers to do work for an unusually low price, he said.

Boy Involved In Stabbing Changes Plea

William Rath, 18, Found Guilty; Is Fined $100

A second youth involved in a stabbing incident May 27 has been found guilty of disorderly conduct.

William Rath, 18, 610 N. Owaisa St., pleaded innocent last week but changed his plea to no contest Friday afternoon. Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller found the youth guilty and fined him $100 and costs or 48 days in jail.

Russell Paeth, 18, 1530 E. Glendale Ave., earlier was found guilty of disorderly conduct and also was fined $100.

Michael J. Low, 18, Minnetonka, Minn., charged with causing bodily harm by handling a knife in a highly negligent manner, will have a preliminary hearing July 7.

Paeth was stabbed in the shoulder and abdomen during the fracas about 1 a.m. in the 2600 block of W. Fourth Street.

Art C. Brikowski, the co-op's general manager, made the disclosure early last week in a letter to Mayor George Buckley and the city council.

The co-op notified the city that its present location — 320 N. Division St. — will be up for sale and available to the City of Appleton for purchase, if needed.

Brikowski said Outagamie Equity Co-op has purchased 11 acres of land on W. Wisconsin Avenue in the town, where the cooperative's complete operation will eventually be located.

However, it was emphasized plans have not been finalized for the anticipated building project in Grand Chute and no date has been set for relocating the local operation.

An announcement concerning the co-op's complete plans and proposed new building layouts will be made in the near future.

The cooperative's Division Street location, two blocks north of College Avenue, consists of 42,000 square feet and is zoned for commercial use.

Waupaca Man Injured When Car Slams Into Back of Parked Auto

Bell was taken to Riverside Hospital, where he is reported in satisfactory condition.

According to police, Bell was traveling south on Washington Street when he struck the car owned by David Shambou, 326 S. Washington St. The 1965 model-car Bell was driving, and the 1963 model car which was parked, were both listed as demolished.

ARLINGTON, Wis. (AP)—For four minutes Sunday, television viewers around the world watched Ronald Caldwell harvest peas on his farm south of this Columbia County community of 359 persons.

Caldwell's farm was used as an example of mechanized American agriculture on a two-hour live telecast called "Our World."

The program, carried by the National Educational Television (NET) network, was beamed around the world by communicating satellites from 17 participating countries. NET officials estimated the potential audience at 500 million persons.

Live television cameras spent four minutes following Caldwell's pea combines across a field and showing other farm operations.

Some Claim Slaves Planted Them

How Kentucky Coffee Trees Got to Calumet Park Remains a Mystery

BY HAZEL THIEL

STOCKBRIDGE — There's a productive coffee tree plantation here, but no "coffee nerves" are being reported by the natives.

How the grove of more than 50 Kentucky coffee trees came to be in Calumet County Park, just north of here, is an unsolved mystery.

Stories are told that in Civil War days the area was a refuge for runaway slaves from the South. Abolitionists along the southern tip of Lake Winnebago provided an escape route for the Negroes. Some credit the slaves with dropping the beans which grow abundantly on the tall trees, thus starting the grove.

Beans Unsusited
The "coffee" title is really a misnomer. Beans found inside the four-inch pods are unsuitable for use in the family percolator. Some claim, however, that they were used by pioneers for a beverage.

Calumet County Agricultural Agent, Orrin Meyer, who has studied the trees, says he knows of no others in this part of Wisconsin. One however, is reported to be in an Appleton park. The two small trees, in the Paul Dobias garden here, are believed to have originated from the park grove.

While the Department of Agriculture yearbook, and other official sources, claim that the tree is native from Western New York to the Southern Appalachians and from Tennessee to Southern Minnesota, local residents have had little success in raising the Kentucky coffee trees here.

One Survivor
Gardeners have tried sowing the beans in hopes of having a tree like those in the park. Meyer says he has one survivor of several he planted in a Stockbridge woodland.

Lothar Funke, park superintendent, said most of the trees are self-set and though he has tried planting seedlings in open areas of the park, they were killed by cold winter-weather. The grove near the chalet, used by the Fox Valley Ski Club, has protection from other trees. A small sign there informs the visitor of the species.

Because the trees are supposed to live only from 40 to 50 years, the more skeptical refute that the trees were planted by slaves, or Indians who roamed the Niagara escarpment. They believe they are native, but can't explain why they are only found in one area of the park. Meyer doesn't believe the trees are more than 50 years old, though one which blew down in a storm about 12 years ago possibly was, he said.

Made Gavel
Wood from the storm casualty raps the majority of Calumet County organizations to order at all meetings, as it was used to make gavel.

The pale green leaves, which turn yellow in autumn are said to be poisonous to flies.

The trees are very slow growing and slow to leaf in spring. Buds are just appearing when their woody neighbors are in full leaf.

How the coffee trees got there may never be known, and chances are Stockbridge folks who live in an area wealthy in history, are not going to stay awake at night trying to solve the mystery.

Does anyone know what constitutes a "normal" individual. Yes—No—

Yes, says Dr. Edward J. Shoben. The normal person has enough discipline to subordinate immediate satisfaction to basic welfare. He accepts responsibility for the consequences of his behavior, instead of blaming someone else. He accepts some responsibility for the welfare of the common good. Yes, they certainly do. To working class people, work is often merely a disagreeable necessity. To middle or upper class people, work is the way they get their fulfillment and many of their satisfactions. Appleton Family Flees House Fire

Sunday Blaze Destroys Garage, Damages Home's Roof and Attic

Six members of a southside Appleton family were forced to flee their home about 10:35 a.m. Sunday when fire broke out in a garage and spread rapidly to the second floor of the attached house.

The fire was at the Emmett Hoks home, 1936 S. Adams St. Mrs. Hoks and five of her seven children were in the two-story frame home when the fire was discovered. Two of the children, Judy, 19, and Marlene, 18, were in upstairs bedrooms and fled barefoot, in their nightclothes and robes.

With Mrs. Hoks downstairs at the time were Bobby, 14; Billy, 13; and Michael, 7. Two other sons, Tim, 12, and Conrad, 4, were outside. Hoks, assistant principal at Appleton High School, was playing golf at Neenah.

Looked Out Door

Mrs. Hoks said she happened to look out the kitchen door, on the south side of the building, and noticed flames in the garage, which is separated from the house on the south side by a narrow breezeway. She said she shouted to the children to get out of the house. They escaped uninjured.

Mrs. Hoks said the overhead garage door was closed and no one had been in the garage.

Firemen, who had five units at the scene, said that the blaze started in the garage, but explained that they could not immediately determine the cause. Flames spread along the south wall of the house and into the second floor attic area which runs nearly the complete length of the south wall. Firemen chopped a hole in the roof to get at the blaze.

Garage Destroyed

The garage and all its contents were destroyed. Flames also extensively damaged the south wall of the house and parts of the attic and roof. There was considerable smoke and water damage on both floors.

Members of the Hoks family began hauling out clothing and other items immediately after firemen finished cleanup operations.

Mrs. Hoks said that her family would stay at the homes of friends and relatives until repairs are made. The loss reportedly was covered by insurance, although no estimate of the loss was immediately available.

Firemen remained at the scene about two hours.

Trials Set for 4 Charged After 'Senior Prank'

Trial dates were set Friday for four 18-year-old Appleton youths arrested by police in connection with a reported "senior prank" early the morning of June 8 at Appleton High School West.

Pleading innocent of disorderly conduct were Thomas D. Tretin, 1138 Oakcrest; Patrick H. Garvey, 1327 W. Rogers St.; Erwin Zick, 918 E. Frances St.; and Paul O. Wink, 1300 Alicia Drive.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller set the following trial dates: Wink, July 17; Zick, July 3; Garvey, Aug. 17; and Tretin, Aug. 16. All of the youths were released on $45 bonds.

An Appleton patrolman said he spotted several youths near the high school about 1:30 a.m. June 8. Police found that a window near the main entrance was broken and one of the youths had been cut on his arms.

Three Hurt In Crash at High Cliff

SHERWOOD — Three of four teenagers were hospitalized early today after the car in which they were riding crashed into a tree at High Cliff State Park.

Details of the incident are still being investigated. It was reported that the two girls, ages 15-16, were runaways and the car in which they were riding with boys 18 and 19 years old was stolen.

Park authorities said the two girls went to the home of Francis Schneider, route 1, Menasha about 5:30 a.m. seeking help.

According to authorities the car was northbound from the upper level and headed toward the picnic area when it failed to negotiate a curve after passing through a stop sign.

The injured were taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital for treatment. According to reports the driver was pinned in the car and suffered a broken leg. One girl was reported to have teeth knocked out and the condition of the other two was not known.

Sara Sturm Wins National Elks Foundation Scholarship

Sara Sturm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sturm, 1902 S. Bouten St., has won an $800 scholarship in the 1967 Elks National Foundation Most Valuable Student Competition.

The Xavier graduate first won $75 in the local competition and $600 in the state competition but will not receive the $600 due to the prize in the national contest.

The $800 was one of 150 awards ranging from $800 to $1,500 and totaling $130,000, it was announced by the trustees of the foundation, charitable trust fund of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

Miss Sturm was the valedictorian of her graduation class, a member of the National Honor Society, cheerleading squad and student council. She has been active in civic affairs and was elected secretary of state at Badger Girls State in 1966.

She plans to attend Lawrence University in the fall, from which she has also received a scholarship. She also is the recipient of the Wisconsin Honor Scholarship.

Avenue Reconstruction

Light Poles Go Up Today

New street light standards started going up on College Avenue today.

Crews of the Superior Electric Company were installing new standards were installed in completion of the sidewalks. will be the next order of business as the downtown project heads into the final stages well ahead of schedule.

At the same time, crews are taking down the old standards, which were relocated on the north side of the street to provide the downtown area with some light during the street reconstruction.

Engineers have indicated it still will take considerable time to put all the finishing touches on the new street.

In the meantime, committees of the common council and Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce are supposed to be mapping plans for a civic celebration to herald completion of College Avenue in August or September.

Several intersections have been opened to cross-traffic. Construction and police officials feel it would not be advisable to open any parts of the newly paved street at this time, although there has been pressure to do so.

Streetscaping Plan Extended

Property owners in the blocks immediately north and south of the new College Avenue can get in the streetscaping act.

The city council's streetscaping committee has disclosed the department of public works will cooperate with anyone interested in preparing streetscaping plans.

Recently, Robert Graves, head of a Milwaukee firm specializing in commercial and municipal landscaping, said he would assist interested merchants in the preparation of designs without charge.

But it was emphasized the contact would have to be made through the public works department at city hall. Some merchants with stores on side streets already have responded.

Seymour Women Hurt in 2-Car Crash at Oneida

Carol Springers, 333 Morrow St., Seymour, suffered minor injuries when the car in which she was riding was involved in a two-car accident at 12:30 p.m. Saturday on State 54 in the Town of Oneida.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Anna Gerl, Plymouth, which Outagamie County sheriff's authorities reported hit the rear of a car driven by Daniel E. Fierst, 45, Green Bay.

Fierst had stopped as he was heading west on 54, waiting for a car to turn. The woman driver said she tried to stop but slid into the Fierst car.

Fierst and Hazel Drake, 44, a passenger in the Fierst car, were reported uninjured. The Plymouth woman suffered a cut on the nose.

The 1965 model Fierst vehicle was damaged on the bumper and rear door, estimated at $175. Damage to the 1965 Gerl car was estimated at $200.

State Woman Elected To UCC Synod Office

A Madison woman, Mrs. Henry E. Hefty, was elected assistant moderator of the United Church of Christ at the denomination's sixth general synod meeting in Cincinnati, Ohio.

During her two-year term Mrs. Hefty will visit the conferences, associations and local churches as official representative of the General Synod and will assist in presiding over the meeting of the Synod in 1968.

The Rev. Gibson I. Daniels, D.P., Westport, Conn., was elected moderator.

Unique System

When the work is completed, downtown Appleton will have one of the most unique and modern lighting systems in the Midwest.

Although fixtures were here for several weeks, the lighting project had to be held up because of a delay in the shipment of poles from a Newark, N. J. firm which had been strikebound.

However, some 40 standards arrived via railroad freight Friday and were unloaded over the weekend.

Police were told that the car carried about three persons and that the vehicle appeared to be two-tone in color, probably with a white top.

White House State Dinner Is Long-Remembered Occasion

CHAPTER NINE
The White House, imposing by day, becomes regal at nightfall. The well of light behind the white columns at the front and the sparkling water tossed skyward from the fountain gives the Executive Mansion an aura of silent nobility. Big lights crouching in the grass expose the dark whiteness through the flat trees. In any era, in any place, it would be an edifice of importance.

Guests for the dinner in honor of the Philippines President Marcos are still arriving, but they seem slightly harassed. The invitation reads: "... will present this card at the southwest gate, The White House, at eight o'clock." Most hostesses regard guests who arrive on time as social nuisances, but at the White House, eight o'clock means eight o'clock. Thus the latest group, held up by traffic, or baby-sitters, or a zipper which refused to function, tries to hurry through the gate. The officers still take their time examining invitations and faces in cars. The speed around the oval must be maintained at five miles per hour, and the latecomers draw up to the canopy outside the reception hall without the time to permit ushers to open the automobile doors

Long Gowns

They pop out, and as their chauffeurs shift the cars along, the ladies hurry inside in long, tight gowns which permit only the tiniest steps, and on up to the East Room. To some, a presidential reception is an old story, but to all there is the tickle of unusual excitement. It is more than an opportunity to dine with the President of the United States. The guests are gentlemen and ladies of note. Here the society of birthright is replaced by the society of accomplishment.

The East Room has been partitioned this night so that only the south half is used for the reception. The crystal chandelier hangs like a fruit cup of diamonds; the old parquet floor, laid down in 1902, gleams with long paths of reflected light; pale satin drapes hang in the tall windows, screened by a gold valance and long pleated tie-backs. Gold benches hug the walls, waiting for those who may become tired. President James Monroe's ornate candelabra decorates the long mantel. A full-length portrait of Martha Washington, hands limply at her sides, hangs an archway away from one of her husband painted by Gilbert Stuart.

The room not as stiffly formal as the great reception hall of Buckingham Palace in London, has been referred to as a "lofty, dignified salon, associated with splendid and solemn events. Levees and receptions, wedding places have taken place here; today it is the first state room seen by the public visitor on a tour of the White House, and the room where guests gather before a state dinner.

The baritone notes of Pablo Casals' cello were heard here; so were the shrieks of Mary Lincoln as she looked upon the Easter face of her husband on Easter Sunday, 1865. The room was an unfurnished barn to Thomas Jefferson; a wedding scene for Grover Cleveland; a refuge where, without others present, Harry Truman could sit at a gilt Steinway piano, one with eagles on its legs, and tap out an old ragtime tune. It is also the place to which John F. Kennedy's body was brought at 4:05 a.m. on November 23, 1963.

Upstairs, the President lifts his chin to adjust his bow tie. A light flickers on the bedside phone and the tie is pressed flat against the collar as he lifts the phone. "Yes," he says. "All right." The Marcos party is en route. They are expected at the Pennsylvania Avenue gate in eight minutes. The President hangs up. He is ready. The jacket is pulled down and he joins Mrs. Johnson in her room. She also is ready. Her habit, in common with her husband, is to be on time. She is wearing a plain alabaster-white gown with a beaded sleeveless jacket. Her dark hair is coiffed bouffant; sitting at her dressing table, flicking the final strands of hair into place, she gives it a final inspection. Her maid, Helen Williams, stands back, clasping her hands and watching.

"My, don't you look pretty," the President says. Mrs. Johnson stands, and the total effect of sheath and coiffure is to add height to her diminutive stature and make her look much younger than her husband. He touches his lips to her cheek, and Helen Williams holds the door open for them.

In the East Room people have gathered in groups close to the walls; the only motion is by those who are crossing the room to greet others. Tall ushers carry silver trays laden with daiquiris, Scotch and soda, orange juice; whiskey. The conversation is animated, and there is a sustained sibilant of sound as groups form, melt, and reform. In the main hall off the East Room, the red-coated military service musicians swing into a lively fox trot. The young Army captain stands in the foyer, directing guests, or taking part in the conversations when solicited.

Hour by hour events in of the United States are detailed from firsthand knowledge by distinguished author-reporter Jim Bishop. Mr. Bishop spent 11 days with President Lyndon B. Johnson and his family, from L.B.J.'s rising at 7 a.m. until lights were out at midnight, and shared Presidential experiences. His vivid account of activities in a typical 17-hour Presidential day is being published exclusively in this area in The Post-Crescent.

Outside, the Marcos party steps from its cars to be escorted into the White House. In the Philippine President's entourage are the secretary for foreign affairs; the secretary of finance; Sen. Benjamin T. Romualdez, a special envoy to the United States with the rank of ambassador; Press Secretary Aspiras; Brig. Gen. Hans Menzi, a middle-aged pilot who is senior Presidential aide, and the speaker of the House of Representatives of the Philippines and the under secretary of agriculture. All of them speak excellent English.

The Filipino ladies are all attractive. They have creamy skin, complexions, and they wear gossamer gowns of Filipino fashion with shoulders puffed like small wings. They hold the sides of their long dresses between pinched fingers, and they bow to greetings as they follow James Symington, chief of protocol, to the Oval Room.

Familiar Faces

Many faces around the East Room are familiar to newspaper readers. They can be recognized as Vice President and Mrs. Humphrey, Cabinet members, senators, representatives, members of the Council of Economic Advisers, admirals, generals and presidential assistants, professors, labor union officials, newspapermen, broadcasters, an astronaut.

There is time for a second drink. It promotes conversation and the buzz is a decibel higher when the musicians stop in mid-waltz to strike up "Hail to the Chief." All around the room words die on lips, and the young Army captains make gentle motions with their gloves for the guests to form into a reception line. President Johnson approaches the door with the gloved hand of Mrs. Marcos in the crook of his arm. He pauses to wait for President Marcos and Mrs. Johnson to draw abreast, then he enters the room. The applause of the guests can be heard over the last strains of the march.

Ferdinand Marcos stands next to Lyndon Johnson in the receiving line, and his handsome face is animated with boyish delight. Third in line is Mrs. Johnson, who addresses herself to Mrs. Marcos, on her right. A uniformed officer stands 10 feet from the arch, to announce the guests as the loose line moves up to the Presidents. The keynote is not formality, in spite of the tendency of a few women to compromise between a formal bow and a curtsy. Lyndon Johnson's handshake is warm and firm, and he introduces each guest as if he or she was a personal friend. "Mr. President," he says, "pass the guest onward, 'this is our distinguished senator from ...'"

"This is one of the prettiest ladies in the Southwest, where we grow a lot of pretty ones." "Mr. President, this is the governor of New Mexico and Mrs. Campbell. ... Mr. Marcos acknowledges each one with enthusiasm. The guests move on to Mrs. Johnson, who wears a big smile and helps to reintroduce each guest to the First Lady of the Philippines.

The guests leave the room for numbered seats at the assigned tables in the State Dining Room and the Blue Room. The dinner is too big for one room, because the Johnsons abandoned the old U-shaped table at which guests had to sit according to rank, in favor of round tables seating eight, where protocol gives way to informality. Among the distinguished personages, the petty confusion of "which room, which table" ensues. The young Army captains assist and, having received a signal to seat the guests, are like so many collies around a herd of expensive sheep.

9:00 p.m.

The dignity of the state reception vanishes as the diners sit. The President comes into the room with his glasses on, holding Mrs. Marcos by the arm and leading the graceful and willowy lady to the head table. There is a polite applause: the guests stand as he holds a chair out for his dinner companion.

He looks around the big room at the white tables, each with eight persons, and having assured himself that all is in order, sits down. An usher in the far doorway nods, and the waiters start bringing in the first course.

The buzz of table introductions begins. Each table has a host; couples are split, not only so far as tables are concerned, but rooms too. President Marcos is seated in the Blue Room with Mrs. Johnson. A system of loudspeakers connect the rooms. The place settings are elaborate, with Truman gold dinnerware and wine goblets. There is a flower arrangement on each table. The lighting is soft, coming from electric candles overhead and from wall clusters.

The music is pleasantly archaic. The tunes are hummable, and the notes barely intrude on the conversation.

The waiters glide in silence.

serving from trays of crabmeat in molds. Wine stewards pour. The buzz of conversation lifts. As the President leans across his plate to be heard by his 'able guests. His attitude is "at home," and his head and eyes turn from one to the other at his table.

As he finishes his crabmeat, laughing at a joke and wiping his mouth, he catches the eye of a waiter and nods. In a moment Mr. Johnson has a second helping of crabmeat.

In the Blue Room, Mr. Marcos sits under a center chandelier, chatting with Mrs. Johnson. Hubert Humphrey is at a side table. A guest asks happily, "Why was I invited?" and no one offers an answer. The topics range from generals who play golf at Burning Tree, to freedom of the press and concomitant abuses, and to the beauty of Mrs. Marcos. Adele Simpson, the designer, can be seen at another table, tossing a flower to Sen. Frank Lausche. He puts it between his teeth, then switches it to a position over his ear.

Outside the White House, and under lights, several workmen move heavy objects off the garden walk into a sheltered corner of the vestibule. These are the gifts the two Presidents have exchanged. The first family of the Philippines brought the Johnsons carved mahogany furniture. The Johnson daughters also are remembered; for Luci, there are place mats and napkins made of pineapple cloth. For Lynda, dessert plates which seem to have been made from shells.

The Johnsons gave their guests several gifts, including a silver box with handles, bearing the seal of the President, and etched with quotes from both men. The one from Mr. Johnson reads: "We dream of a world where all are fed and charged with hope. And we will help to make it so." On the other side, a quotation from Mr. Marcos reads: "Come then, let us march together toward the dream of greatness." For the young Marcoses there was a doll house completely furnished, a doll with a wardrobe, and a slot-car racing set.

The diners are well into the salad and Trappist cheese when strolling musicians appear at the head of each aisle of tables. Mrs. Marcos lifts her face radiantly as the instrumentalists begin to play a Filipino folk song called "Planting Rice." She begins to sing softly with the musicians. A few Americans who have been duty in the Philippines join in. The lady applauds vigorously when the song is completed. They break into "I Could Have Danced All Night," followed by the popular songs. President Johnson's head nods to the rhythm. The ladies breathe a little deeper, and eat a little less. Some disavow dessert, then look at it a second time and decide yes.

The musicians are playing a musical comedy hit as they back out the door into the great center hall. An usher goes to the President's table to tell him those in the Blue Room are nearly finished dinner. Demitasse is being served. The gentlemen have been given choices from boxes of cigars.

In the big kitchen, some of the ushers repeat the compliments of diners on the quality of the beef. One grins at Mr. Haller. "The President," he said, "had a second crabmeat." The chef looks surprised. "Did he say anything?" The waiter shoulders a tray. "Yes, sir. He said, 'This one is different.'"

The chef has little interest in the other compliments. His night is complete.

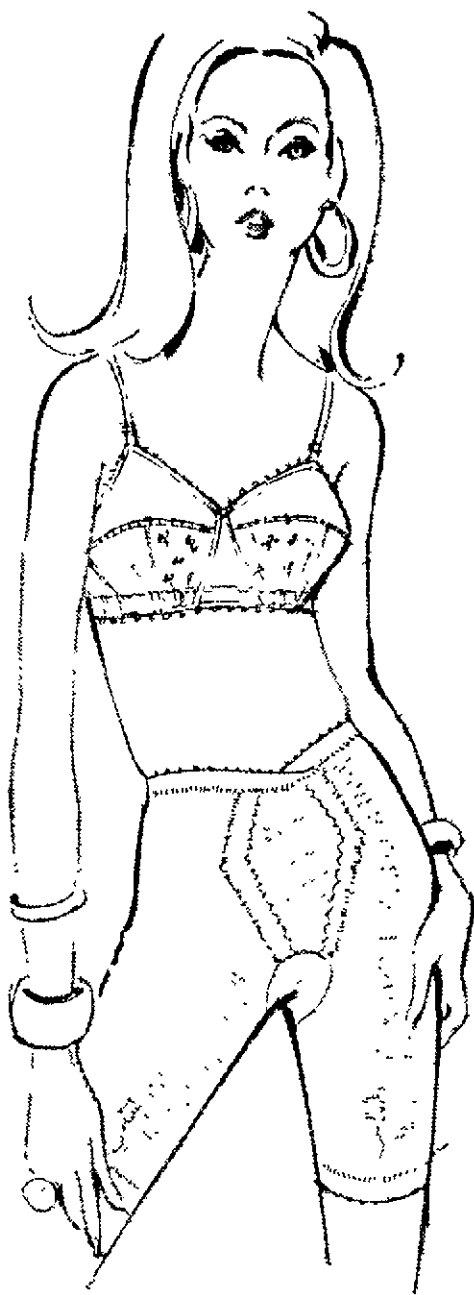

In the East Room, the partition has been removed. A stage is in place with 200 chairs in front of it. A group of performers comes onstage. The director of the Marine Corps band uses the little stairway on the left side to walk onstage to go over the order of entertainment once more. The actors group around him. Every number has been rehearsed and timed. Still there are questions. "Do I leave stage right?" "Any encores?" "Where will the President sit? Will I be able to see him through the footlights?" "How about the cues? Do I look at you for the introduction?"

The dance orchestra again takes position outside the portal to the East Room. On the racks and on the floor are sheets of music, enough to last all night. When the strolling violinists come out into the hall, the director of the band knows that the dinner is nearly over. He is ready.

Blind Queenie Finds Safe, Friendly Home

DETROIT AP — Little, blind Queenie has found a home and some new friends.

The eyesless springer spaniel moved in with the William H. Swank family in suburban Northville Township Sunday.

Her new friends include the Swank's daughter Pat, 11, three cats and a horse named Mr. Allen.

Mrs. Swank said her home on a two-acre lot is the ideal place for Queenie. "There is lots of space for her to run and there is no danger from cars."

Queenie was abandoned a week ago in a Detroit church. Around her neck was a note saying, "I can't see what is going on in this world. Please help me find a home and some children to play with."

The Humane Society turned the dog over to the Swanks after screening several hundred of fers.

Percy Says Only Negotiations Can End Vietnam War

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., said Saturday that total military victory in Vietnam is impossible and that there should be no further escalation of the war.

Percy, mentioned as a Republican presidential candidate possibility, declared at the same time that he is unalterably opposed to a unilateral withdrawal of U.S. troops.

The senator, in Dallas for a night and morning of talks, told a news conference that the only way to solve the Vietnam problem is through a negotiated peace.

"We must accelerate the pursuit of peace as diligently as we have been escalating the war," he said.

City Attorney Authorized to Settle for Mares Property

City Atty. David Geenen has been authorized by the common council to enter into a stipulation to settle the condemnation case involving the Harold D. Mares property at 625 W. Prospect Ave.

Under terms reportedly agreed to by Mares and the city, the former will receive $11,000 more than the original $8,500 payment made when a slice of his property was taken two years ago for the Prospect Memorial intersection widening.

After the condemnation process was exercised by the city when Mares declined its original offer, he instituted a court action to seek $24,000 in damages.

Geenen was prepared to fight the case for the city and during pre-trial conferences the final settlement was arrived at which will result in Mares being paid a total of $9,600.

In recent weeks, Geenen has been successful in representing the city in condemnation appeals, resulting in awards being cut by an estimated $45,000 — the money representing a savings to the city.

Geenen has taken the position, backed up by the council, that the city appeal any awards made by condemnation commissions which appear to be out of line with market values, or appraisals.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases — to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so.

And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind. The secret is a Preparation H — an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress — Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection. Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Celebration to Mark Oneida's Progress Year

July 1-2 Event Also Aimed at Raising Funds

The Tribal Council of the Oneida Indians is planning a "Year of Progress" celebration July 1-2 at Oneida Memorial Park, the former CCC camp.

According to chairman Cornelius Baird, the Oneidas have a great deal to celebrate.

During the year the tribe has made strides in community development with the help of several federal aid programs.

Federal Projects Underway Underway now in the community are federal housing projects, Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) programs, and Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC) programs.

The Oneidas have another reason for celebrating — fund raising. Proceeds from the celebration will be used to enlarge and improve the main building at Memorial Park so that it can be used as a community center.

Baird explained that some sort of facility is needed to serve the community. At present 35 children are participating in a federally sponsored Head Start program for which meeting facilities had to be rented.

Would Save Money Baird said the development of a community center would provide space needed for this and other programs and would in the long-run save money for the community.

He added that expanded facilities would be open for use by area residents in addition to the tribe.

Scheduled for the two-day celebration are a pow-wow at which Indian tribes from all over the state are expected, baseball, Indian food, games, music and square dancing.

Forcing Child to Eat Too Much Is Brutality

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do you think parents should make children eat? My son and his wife make their 5-year-old girl eat what would be a good serving for a grownup. I've seen them heap her plate with roast beef, potatoes, green beans and slaw. She seems as though she can't swallow another bit, but she does because her father has whipped her for not eating and she is afraid to not.

We don't invite them to eat with us because of this. — Mrs. D.L.

Oh, the poor kid! There is no more excuse for making a child eat more than he or she wants than there is for forcing an adult guest to do so. But the adult, if pressed, can always say, "Look, I just don't want any more." A child of 5, with a whipping as an alternative, can't.

Such treatment is little short of brutality. In fact, it is brutality.

Naturally we can't let a child get away with eating no dinner and then filling up on cookies and candy between meals, but that is a quite different matter.

The principal consequences of such forcing are: a child trained to overeat will become fat and lazy; digestive disturbances from over-loading; finally, and perhaps worst of all, a resentful child who will rebel, as soon as she is able, no just against eating but at any discipline or instruction. Children remember!

You might invite them over once more for dinner, and put on your son's plate three times what he ordinarily eats. Then insist that he clean up his plate.

Or maybe I shouldn't suggest that. I don't want to disrupt a family relationship. But I do feel sorry for that little girl.

Dr. Molner: Please explain how one may treat a child that bulges in places and little pockets form and certain foods cause a lot of misery and pain.

— J.K.T.

You have written a succinct description of diverticulosis and diverticulitis, and you will find the answers in my booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You." For a copy send 20 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner in care of the Post-Crescent.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would you do me a favor and write about what causes liver disease. It is important that people understand that it is not alone due to drinking. I have liver disease but drink nothing alcoholic. I used to drink beer every night but it never hampered my appetite—F.R.

I've said so before. I'll repeat it. Liver disease can result from several things. Alcohol (probably combined with poor nutrition in most cases, since hard drinkers often don't eat properly) is only one.

Sometimes prolonged faulty nutrition is the cause, with no alcohol involved at all. Various poisonous substances can damage the liver greatly. And hepatitis, which is liver disease, is caused by viruses.

To "Pigeon Breeder's Wife": Since my recent answer to you, I note the results of studies at the University of Wisconsin showing that some people are allergic to pigeon dust, and "pigeon breeder's disease" can be serious for such people, unless treated. Symptoms include fever, chest pain, chills, shortness of breath, cough, loss of weight.

Note to M.L.M.: If aspirin causes white hair to "turn rust color," it's news to me. I suggest that you let your hairdresser fix your hair but ignore her "medical" advice.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Fullback Quits Football

Jim Brown Takes Role Of Actor, Rights Role

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "You everybody has gone out of his don't want to be just an All-American boy all your life," said Jimmy Brown. "You have to be a man."

Since quitting professional football at the peak of his fame, the great Negro fullback has embarked on two careers—one paid, the other unpaid.

He has become an actor and a race leader and is doing well in both fields.

For his part in "The Dirty Dozen," one of three films he already has completed, he received $40,000, and MGM has him under option for two more pictures.

Jimmy tries to be realistic about his future on stage and screen.

Big Emotions "I know I need a lot more experience to become a good actor," he said. "I feel I can't do the subtle things yet."

"I believe I can make it, however, if I progress slowly and stay within my range. For example, I wouldn't want to play a priest now. I don't know enough about priests."

No, he laughed, "and I don't have any ambition to play Hamlet. But I would like to play the Emperor Jones when I'm ready."

Brown, who has grown a small goatee, has found acting more arduous in a way than football. His weight has dropped from 228 to 222.

Physical Best "The only thing I miss about football is the tremendous feeling of having my body at its physical peak. You feel your best when you're working out every day during the season. But I don't miss the game itself."

Jimmy has been happily surprised by the camaraderie he has met with among his fellow actors.

"I was ready to have to progress," he said. "I believe in myself because I had heard the movies were a cutthroat

"Eventually, the choice will lie between total freedom or concentration camps. So far, the administration has met the problem only by a hard line—using police and national guard troops."

"But when they apply a curfew, it doesn't affect just rioters in the street. It affects all black people."

"You have to meet the issue with soul programs—programs that really help the Negro—or the end result will be that the black people will all be put in concentration camps."

But at 31, Jimmy, somber though he feels the "racial situation" to be, is hopeful that a disastrous confrontation can be avoided.

"Life to me stands for progress," he said. "I believe in working things out, and I believe the movies were a cutthroat

Blind Queenie Finds Safe, Friendly Home

DETROIT AP — Little, blind Queenie has found a home and some new friends.

The eyeless springer spaniel moved in with the William H. Swank family in suburban Northville Township Sunday.

Her new friends include the Swank's daughter Pat, 11, three cats and a horse named Mr. Allen.

Mrs. Swank said her home on a two-acre lot is the ideal place for Queenie. "There is lots of space for her to run and there is no danger from cars."

Queenie was abandoned a week ago in a Detroit church. Around her neck was a note saying, "I can't see what is going on in this world. Please help me find a home and some children to play with."

The Humane Society turned the dog over to the Swanks after screening several hundred offers.

Percy Says Only Negotiations Can End Vietnam War

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., said Saturday that total military victory in Vietnam is impossible and that there should be no further escalation of the war.

Percy, mentioned as a Republican presidential candidate possibility, declared at the same time that he is unalterably opposed to a unilateral withdrawal of U.S. troops.

The senator, in Dallas for a night and morning of talks, told a news conference that the only way to solve the Vietnam problem is through a negotiated peace.

"We must accelerate the pursuit of peace as diligently as we have been escalating the war," he said.

City Attorney Authorized to Settle for Mares Property

City Atty David Geenen has been authorized by the common council to enter into a stipulation to settle the condemnation case involving the Harold D. Mares property at 625 W. Prospect Ave.

Under terms reportedly agreed to by Mares and the city, the former will receive $1,100 more than the original $8,300 payment made when a slice of his property was taken two years ago for the Prospect Memorial intersection widening.

After the condemnation process was exercised by the city, Mares declined its original $8,300 offer, he instituted a court action to seek $24,000 in damages, appraisals.

Geenen was prepared to fight the case for the city and during pre-trial conferences the final settlement was arrived at which will result in Mares being paid a total of $9,600.

In recent weeks, Geenen has been successful in representing the city in condemnation appeals, resulting in awards being cut by an estimated $45,000 — the money representing a savings to the city.

Geenen has taken the position, backed up by the council, that the city appeal any awards made by condemnation commission, he instituted a court action to seek $24,000 in damages, appraisals.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases — to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so.

And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind. The secret is Preparation H® — an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress — Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection. Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Forcing Child to Eat Too Much Is Brutality

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do you think parents should make children eat? My son and his wife make their 5-year-old girl eat what would be a good serving for a grownup. I've seen them heap her plate with roast beef, potatoes, green beans and slaw. She seems as though she can't swallow another bit, but she but it never hampered my appetite—F.R. I've said so before. I'll repeat it. Liver disease can result from several things. Alcohol (probably combined with poor nutrition in most cases, since hard drinkers often don't eat properly) is only one.

Sometimes prolonged faulty nutrition is the cause, with no alcohol involved at all. Various poisonous substances can damage the liver greatly. And hepatitis, which is liver disease, is caused by viruses.

To "Pigeon Breeder's Wife": Since my recent answer to you, I note the results of studies at the University of Wisconsin showing that some people are allergic to pigeon dust, and "pigeon breeder's disease" can be serious for such people, unless treated. Symptoms include fever, chest pain, chills, shortness of breath, cough, loss of weight.

Note to M.L.M.: If aspirin causes white hair to "turn rust color," it's news to me. I suggest that you let your hairdresser fix your hair but ignore her "medical" advice.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin and cover cost of printing and handling. does because her father has whipped her for not eating and she is afraid to not.

We don't invite them to eat with us because of this. — Mrs. D.L.

Oh, the poor kid! There is no more excuse for making a child eat more than he or she wants than there is for forcing an adult guest to do so. But the adult, if pressed, can always say, "Look, I just don't want any more." A child of 5, with a whipping as an alternative, can't.

Such treatment is little short of brutality. In fact, it is brutality.

Naturally we can't let a child get away with eating no dinner and then filling up on cookies and candy between meals, but that is a quite different matter.

The principal consequences of such forcing are: A child trained to overeat will become fat and lazy; digestive disturbances from over-loading; finally, and perhaps worst of all, a resentful child who will rebel, as soon as she is able, no just against eating but at any discipline or instruction. Children remember!

You might invite them over once more for dinner, and put on your son's plate three times what he ordinarily eats. Then insist that he clean up his plate.

Or maybe I shouldn't suggest that. I don't want to disrupt a family relationship. But I do feel sorry for that little girl.

Dr. Molner: Please explain how one may treat a colon that bulges in places and little pockets form and certain foods cause a lot of misery and pain — J.K.T.

You have written a succinct description of diverticulosis and diverticulitis, and you will find the answers in my booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You." For a copy send 20 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would you do me a favor and write about what causes liver disease. It is important that people understand that it is not alone due to drinking. I have liver disease but drink nothing alcoholic. I used to drink beer every night business," he admitted. "But everybody has gone out of his way to help me."

In his spare time away from the camera Jimmy has been active as national chairman of the Negro Industrial and Economic Union. Its membership is made up of outstanding Negro athletes, businessmen and professional people.

"Green Power" Its goal said Brown, is to counteract the teachings of black nationalists, "who warp the minds of young Negroes," and to emphasize "Green power, not black power."

"Green power" stands for money—the economic improvement of the Negro.

While acknowledging the continuing need of white help, Brown believes the times has come for American Negroes to lift themselves up by their own bootstraps.

"We want to change to idea of mere passive resistance to one of active work toward bettering their own destiny," he said.

"We want him to utilize all his resources fully—not just cry the blues. We've cried the blues too long."

Hard Line "Eventually, the choice will be between total freedom or concentration camps. So far, the administration has not made the problem only by a hard line—by using police and national guard troops."

"But when they apply a curfew, it doesn't affect just rioters in the street. It affects all black people."

"You have to meet the issue with soul programs—programs that really help the Negro—or the end result will be that the black people will all be put in concentration camps."

But at 31, Jimmy, somber though he feels the racial situation to be, is hopeful that a disastrous confrontation can be avoided.

"Life to me stands for progress," he said. "I believe in working things out, and I believe the movies were a cutthroat lieve they can be worked out."

Jimmy has been happily surprised by the camaraderie he has met with among his fellow actors.

"I was ready to have to progress," he said. "I believe in working things out, and I believe the movies were a cutthroat lieve they can be worked out."

Celebration to Mark Oneidas' Progress Year

July 1-2 Event Also Aimed at Raising Funds

The Tribal Council of the Oneida Indians is planning a "Year of Progress" celebration July 1-2 at Oneida Memorial Park, the former CCC camp.

According to chairman Cornelius Baird, the Oneidas have a great deal to celebrate.

During the year the tribe has made strides in community development with the help of several federal aid programs.

Federal Projects Underway Underway now in the community are federal housing projects, Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) programs and Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC) programs.

The Oneidas have another reason for celebrating — fund raising. Proceeds from the celebration will be used to enlarge and improve the main building at Memorial Park so that it can be used as a community center.

Baird explained that some sort of facility is needed to serve the community. At present 35 children are participating in a federally sponsored Head Start program for which meeting facilities had to be rented.

Would Save Money Baird said the development of a community center would provide space needed for this and other programs and would in the long-run save money for the community.

He added that expanded facilities would be open for use by area residents in addition to the tribe.

Scheduled for the two-day celebration are a pow-wow at which Indian tribes from all over the state are expected, baseball, Indian food, games, music and square dancing.

Fullback Quits Football

Jim Brown Takes Role Of Actor, Rights Role

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "You don't want to be just an All-American boy all your life," said Jimmy Brown. "You have to be a man."

Since quitting professional football at the peak of his fame, the great Negro fullback has embarked on two careers—one paid, the other unpaid.

He has become an actor and a race leader and is doing well in both fields.

For his part in "The Dirty Dozen," one of three films he already has completed, he received $40,000, and MGM has him under option for two more pictures.

Jimmy tries to be realistic about his future on stage and screen.

Big Emotions
"I know I need a lot more experience to become a good actor," he said. "I feel I can handle the big emotions all right—such as fear and anger—but I can't do the subtle things yet."

"I believe I can make it, however, if I progress slowly and stay within my range. For example, I wouldn't want to play a priest now. I don't know enough about priests."

"No," he laughed, "and I don't have any ambition to play Hamlet. But I would like to play the Emperor Jones when I'm ready."

Brown, who has grown a small goatee, has found acting more arduous in a way than football. His weight has dropped from 228 to 222.

Physical Best
"The only thing I miss about football is the tremendous feeling of having my body at its physical peak. You feel your best when you're working out every day during the season. But I don't miss the game itself."

Jimmy has been happily surprised by the camaraderie he has met with among his fellow actors.

"I was ready to have to protect myself because I had heard the movies were a cutthroat business," he admitted. "But everybody has gone out of his way to help me."

In his spare time away from the camera Jimmy has been active as national chairman of the Negro Industrial and Economic Union. Its membership is made up of outstanding Negro athletes, businessmen and professional people.

'Green Power'
Its goal said Brown, is to counteract the teachings of black nationalists, "who warp the minds of young Negroes," and to emphasize "Green power," not black power. "Green power" stands for money—the economic improvement of the Negro.

While acknowledging the continuing need of white help, Brown believes the times has come for American Negroes to lift themselves up by their own bootstraps.

"We want to change to idea of mere passive resistance to one of active work toward bettering their own destiny," he said. "We want him to utilize all his resources fully—not just cry the blues. We've cried the blues too long."

Hard Line
"Eventually, the choice will lie between total freedom or concentration camps. So far, the administration has met the problem only by a hard line—by using police and national guard troops."

"But when they apply a curfew, it doesn't affect just rioters in the street. It affects all black people."

"You have to meet the issue with soul programs—programs that really help the Negro—or the end result will be that the black people will all be put in concentration camps."

But at 31, Jimmy, somber though he feels the racial situation to be, is hopeful that a disastrous confrontation can be avoided.

"Life to me stands for progress," he said. "I believe in working things out, and I believe they can be worked out."

U.N. Voice of Red China

Albania Lambasts Soviet 'Treachery'

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Albania, the U.N. voice of Red China, charged today that the Soviet Union had called the emergency session of the General Assembly to hide its "treachery" against the Arabs and as a plot to negotiate with President Johnson "at the expense of the peoples of the world."

The attack was delivered as Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin already was headed back to Moscow by way of Havana. Albanian Foreign Minister Nesti Nasi told the 122-nation assembly the Kosygin government had stabbed the Arab countries in the back.

He declared the "progressive peoples" of the world were "profoundly indignant" at the "friendly meetings" of Kosygin and Johnson. He called the Soviet position on the Middle East "hypocritical" and added that

33 Escape From Burning Airplane
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A United Air Lines jet prop plane with 33 persons aboard crashed and caught fire today when a nose wheel collapsed on take-off from Kent County Airport. The 30 passengers and crew of 3 escaped from the burning craft by sliding down chutes attached to exits. One woman, Mrs. William L. Taggart Jr. of Grand Rapids, was injured as she left the plane. The fire in the baggage bin was quickly extinguished by the airport fire department.

Soviet aid to the Arabs "is a U.N. cease-fire resolutions nad been made without protection for Arab rights."

'Kosygin-Johnson Plot'
"Down with the Kosygin-Johnson plot," he said. The Russians, he added, not only failed to come to the aid of the Arabs "but they reached an understanding with the United States to coordinate their actions both inside and outside the United Nations."

"Aggressors have found valuable aid in the Kosygin government's hypocritical attitude," he added. "The Kosygin government has revealed its treachery to the interests of the Arab peoples. At the most critical time, they abandoned the Arab peoples."

Nasi referred to what he called "the double game of the Kosygin government," charging that Soviet agreement to the

Havana Stop
The Albanian representative spoke as Kosygin was en route to Kennedy Airport on his way home by way of Havana. Most of his listeners were low-ranking diplomats in contrast with the high-level representation attending last week's sessions.

The Soviet premier arrived in New York June 17 on his first visit to the United States. He has been attending the emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly, sightseeing in New York City and Niagara Falls, and talking with President Johnson in Glassboro, N.J.

Many Doubt Bombing's Effect

quickly replacing bridges with temporary spans

• More than 30 per cent of North Vietnam's cement plant capacity has been destroyed, officers said. Cement is used to repair roads and airfield runways, as well as shattered buildings

• More than 3,500 trucks destroyed and an equal number damaged. Military intelligence sources estimate that U.S. planes have sunk more than 6,500 barges and other vessels and damaged more than 12,000. The tally of railroad rolling stock destroyed is pegged at more than 1,000 cars and engines. Another 2,000 are claimed as damaged

Despite all this and the bombing of some industrial-type targets which have never been described officially, North Vietnam's economy continues to function

On June 6, it was said officially that U.S. planes had hit railroad yards some 35 miles northwest of Hanoi. What was not announced, sources revealed, was that the planes also clobbered the Viet Tri chemical plant adjoining those yards

Raids have been conducted against a power station and railroad lines at Bac Giang, 23 miles northeast of Hanoi. But focused on his demands for an Israeli rollback in the Middle East and renewed the Soviet accusation of U.S. aggression in Vietnam.

Asked whether Johnson would receive as warm a welcome in the Soviet Union as Kosygin had received at Glassboro, the premier indicated that Johnson would not be invited under present conditions

"I believe," he said, "if aggression were ended and a truly peaceful policy were pursued, the welcome of President Johnson in the Soviet Union would be truly cordial indeed"

The premier called the Glassboro talks "useful" because they gave the President and him an opportunity to "compare positions on the questions discussed." He made no reference to a point which Johnson stressed — the chance for the two to at least talk directly about their discords

'Face to Face'
Referring to Vietnam and the Arab-Israeli conflict, Johnson said "I was very glad to hear the chairman's views face to face, and to have a chance to tell him directly and in detail just what our purposes and policies are — and are not — in these particular areas."

"Meetings like these do not themselves make peace," Johnson said at another point in his report to the nation after returning to Washington. "We must all remember that there have been many meetings before and they have not ended all of our troubles or our dangers"

"But I can also repeat on this Sunday afternoon another thing I said on Friday: that it does help a lot to sit down and look at a man — right in the eye — and try to reason with him, particularly if he is trying to reason with you."

'Very Dangerous'
"I said on Friday that the world is very small and very dangerous. Tonight I believe it is fair to say that these days at Hollybush have made it a little smaller, too, but also a little less dangerous."

A little more than half of the 10 hours the two men spent together was spent apart from their advisers, attended only by interpreters. This gave them unusual opportunity to talk in full secrecy about their disagreements and about the possibilities of future action to narrow them.

This gave the Glassboro meeting a possibly greater significance for the future than the public statements indicated. But military sources said a nitrogen fertilizer plant there had not been bombed, presumably because it is connected with North Vietnam's food production, rather than its immediate war effort

American bombers have smashed at a key railroad bridge four miles outside of Hanoi, but a major French-built bridge, the twin-span Doumer bridge, on the edge of the city, has been spared.

The Air Force and Navy have been conducting more than 800 missions a week against North Vietnam. This translates into more than 2,400 sorties a week — a sortie being a single flight by a single plane

Much of the effort appears concentrated on two major rail lines between Hanoi and China. These lines carry Chinese supplies stocks of small arms, mortars, recoilless rifles and ammunition

They also bring in missiles and other sophisticated equipment transhipped from the Soviet Union. Officers said they don't believe that the Chinese are holding up any of the Russian-supplied gear, despite the Sino-Soviet political quarrel

Another area of bombing concentration is the panhandle and the roads through it which connect with the Ho Chi Minh trail via Laos and the Sihanouk trail

Informants said antiaircraft defenses in the panhandle have been reinforced considerably over the past two months, although the heaviest concentration still is around Hanoi and Haiphong

The lowest estimate shows some 8,000 antiaircraft guns throughout North Vietnam, an increase of about a thousand since early spring

The North Vietnamese have had little success with their face-to-air missiles. An estimated 3,000 SAMs have been fired at U.S. warplanes so far and only about 2 or 3 per cent have scored kills

But American pilots say "face-to-air" missiles have indirectly caused losses by forcing planes into evasion tactics which brought them to altitudes where conventional antiaircraft fire could reach them.

Pentagon sources said this situation has been countered to some extent with better radar jamming

A total of 589 U.S. warplanes have been lost over North Vietnam, 139 of them since the first of the year

The vast majority of the losses have been to 37mm, 57mm and 100mm antiaircraft guns fired by increasingly skillful North Vietnamese gunners Communist MIGs, according to the freshest information available, have shot down 20 U.S. planes and scored two probable kills.

American pilots have shot down 77 North Vietnamese MIGs, probably downed 9 more and destroyed at least 8 on the ground

In addition, there are numerous pilot reports of more MIGs smashed in bomb runs and shoot-ups of MIG bases at Hoa Lac, 19 miles west of Hanoi, and at Kep

Although the officially announced fire for the North Vietnamese air force stands at about 115 planes, sources said it actually is down to around 75 jets—about the size of the North Vietnamese air force before MIG fields were hit for the first time on April 24

Fifteen of the North Vietnamese jets are believed to be the MIG21 model, the best plane that Hanoi has received from the Soviet Union, and 60 are elderly MIG15 and MIG17 planes

About 25 of these normally are rotated to China for maintenance

MIG fields which have not been hit include the important Phuc Yen base, 15 miles north of Hanoi, the Gia Lam airport about two miles from the center of Hanoi, and Cat Bi near Haiphong

Officers said Gia Lam and Cat Bi probably were not being bombed because they are commercial as well as military fields. They said they could not explain why Phuc Yen was being given immunity Intelligence sources said there is no indication that the Russians are sending in a more advanced antiaircraft missile. For awhile, there was suspicion that the Russians had provided improved radar but this did not prove out, sources said

Over the roughly 2½ years of the air war, there have been a number of bombing pauses, some in hopes of bringing North Vietnam to the negotiating table, some in honor of holidays and some caused by weather
